January 04, 2022 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

January 2022 (Greenacre, NSW)?- ABDO Florist is delighted to announce the launch of their newly improved website this year.

The website offers more services and features for their online customers. They also have this new feature called live chat, where clients can easily ask queries from one of the company's customer representatives.

The live chat feature offers an effective way to communicate with the customers no matter where they are in terms of time zones. It also improves their online presence through a user experience-centred design approach.

Following their newly enhanced website launch, Abdo Florist can take orders online seven days a week, including holidays from 8 am to 8 pm. Customers also have access to their services and products, primarily via the live chat feature.

They can now increase their market share through effective customer relations management (CRM). The company is well known to offer unique flower arrangements for gifting occasions. They are also known to have professionals dedicated to ensuring that each gift is delivered on time with utmost care.

They offer same-day delivery if someone orders before 1 pm, seven days a week, Sydney-wide. They can get to most Sydney metropolitan areas for urgent deliveries within 2 hours. Abdo Florist has been in business for about 40 years, serving customers looking for a way to express their feelings and emotions with flowers.

They aim to express those feelings and emotions in a way that will last forever. A reputable florist should deliver flowers promptly, and in the same condition, they left the shop. Flowers should also be appropriately packed to avoid damage.

It is the standard that the company has strived for and one of the main reasons they are well known as florists who take the art, beauty, and joy of flowers to a whole new level.
