BALTIMORE, MD - January 06, 2022 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Baltimore, MD - As the weather turns, Baltimore homeowners are preparing their homes for winter. Ensuring their roof is in good shape is vital to protecting their home from the extreme weather winter brings. If a roof is damaged, improperly installed, or nearing the end of its life, it might not provide adequate protection.

“There are many signs your roof needs replacing before winter is over,” said Joseph Conley, Owner of McHenry Roofing in Edmonton. “Curling or peeling shingles, missing shingles, loose shingle granules, damaged flashing, and leaks are all indicators it’s time for a repair or replacement.”

Baltimore roofing costs vary depending on roofing materials, labor, size, and complexity of the roof. McHenry Roofing specializes in asphalt, cedar, and rubber roofing systems. They shared accurate cost estimates, including labor and cost of roof materials. To receive a roofing estimate in Baltimore visit <https://rebrand.ly/rubber-roof-installation-near-me>.

Replacing a portion of the roof requires less time and expense than replacing the entire roof. Replacing damaged torch down roofing now, can prevent further damage to your roof and increase its lifespan by up to 20 years.

“Many homeowners underestimate how much damage is caused by even one section of their roof leaking,” said Joseph Conley. “Water stains and mold, sagging ceilings and walls, blocked gutters and downspouts, missing shingles on the roof will all increase in severity if left unrepaired.”

It takes only one section of your roof to severely damage the entire structure of your home. If you notice any of these signs it is time to call a roofing contractor as soon as possible.

As with any home renovation, hiring the right professionals can make all the difference in your overall experience and results. McHenry Roofing is a locally-owned and operated business that has been serving Baltimore's residence during both normal business hours and after hours in emergency situations.

“If you’re unsure if your roof will last through the winter, the best thing you can do is give us a call for a consultation. We’ll give an accurate estimate based on the size and style of your roof. From there we can help you compare roofing material types,” said Conley.

In some cases, a few roof repairs might be enough to get you through spring. However, if you notice multiple roofing issues, or your roof is already showing signs of damage such as rotted wood and deteriorating flashing, there’s a high chance your roof will not make it through winter.

“If your roof is in great shape but you just need one or two shingles replaced, we can help! Most roofs can be repaired quickly and inexpensively. Our experience allows us to provide timely estimates and complete the necessary work efficiently,” said Conley.

For clients who are interested in re-roofing their flat roof, a rubber membrane roof may be their best option. Rubber roofs are very durable, easy to install, and require less maintenance compared to other roofing systems.

“We specialize in flat roofs so you won’t have to worry about any leaks with our rubber membranes,” stated the owner. “Rubber roofs provide additional protection against ultraviolet rays and other harsh weather. This means that the roof will last longer and for a better price because we don’t need to replace it as quickly as other roofing materials.”

McHenry Roofing offers comprehensive roofing services, including roof repairs and roof replacements to the Edmonton region. They focus on asphalt, cedar, and rubber roofing systems. McHenry Roofing is committed to fair pricing, customer satisfaction, and professional installations that promise longevity and protection for your home.

?Many homeowners wait until they experience a leak or storm damage to replace their roof. By that point, there can be extensive damage to the underlayment, decking, sheathing, insulation, and wall sheathing if not repaired. This replacement process is more expensive than pre-emptive roof repairs.?
