August 04, 2022 -

Keps Health, a health and wellness center that offers a range of health programs in Auckland, New Zealand, is pleased to announce that they are offering a bio wellness business package. The center is headed by Kerry Dell, who is a recipient of the WildFit 2019 Coach of the Year award. She has been focused on health for more than 20 years and she is a health coach, natural health practitioner, and a certified WildFit coach.

Kerry Dell offers the WildFit Challenge, which is a 90-day private mentorship program for small groups of people who are inspired to accept the challenge. The WildFit with Kerry Dell Challenge has two main parts: the WildFit video coaching program and live coaching. On the video coaching program, Eric Edmeades, founder of WildFit, explains the WildFit philosophy and walks the participants through each step of the 90-day process, including all of the food changes that have to be made. In the live coaching, they will meet once a week on Mondays for a duration of 30 minutes to one hour.

Kerry Dell specializes in nutritional science, behavioral change, and food psychology, which have the outcome of decreasing a person's metabolic age and weight, eliminating the various aches and pains in the body, and restoring one's energy and vitality. Her most popular program is the Wildfit Health Transformational Challenge, which she offers alongside Eric Edmeades, with guaranteed results, which many people do in conjunction with her Life4ce program for optimum results.

Keps Health's Life4ce Program also has two parts: live coaching and weekly implementation exercises. These live coaching calls will be on the same calls as the WildFit program, which means about half of the time will be WildFit and the other half will be about Life4ce. For the weekly implementation exercises, participants will be given some homework that have to be completed by the next call. There will be discussions during the call and then implementation is needed for each participant to experience what was discussed. More about what is happening with Keps Health can be gleaned from their recent press releases.

And for the bio wellness business packages, there are three types: start-up, standard, and all-inclusive. Health coaches who want to start their own business can use one of these packages. Each package is a complete business in a box and includes all equipment costs and set up. Health business training will be provided by Kerry Dell. Some of the equipment included are the: 17d Life Resonance Intelligence System; Quantum Magnetic Resonance Machine; and Majic Rife Machine.

Also included in the start-up package are: installation and training on all equipment by Lee Marais; Bio Wellness Business Certification after completion of training; certification as professional health consultant including therapeutic herbalism, understanding the body, having a balanced lifestyle, knowing the health supplements, understanding ailments, and being successful in the health industry; full body insight training modules by Dr. Tay JuLee; health business coaching by Kerry Dell; weekly training meetings for one year; and FAQ on equipment and case studies.

Keps Health offers various equipment, such as the Life Intelligence Bio Resonance scan, which determines any imbalances throughout the entire body of the patient. Also available is the Quantum Resonant Analyzer, which indicates those areas of the body to focus on. The programs they offer are based on the philosophy that many factors can have an impact on one's health and body's energy. These include allergies, hormonal imbalances, stress, ingestion of toxic substances, pollution, food intolerances, and parasites found in water and foods and many more. Each organ and cell in the human body has its own frequency or distinct oscillation. These frequencies can be measured and then compared to the frequencies of healthy tissue and when these are presented in graph form, any imbalances can be detected. These can have a substantial effect on the person's health and ability to have a thriving lifestyle. They also offer other programs, such as healthy ageing, mind-set training, and weight management.

Those who would like to find out more about the bio wellness business package and other programs offered by Kerry Dell can check out the Keps Health website, or contact them on the phone or through email. They can be contacted 24 hours a day, from Monday to Saturday.
