MoldStar Remediation, A 5 Star Rated Water Damage Restoration Company Opens Office In Marietta, GA

January 20, 2022

January 20, 2022 -
MoldStar Remediation, founded in 2019 by one of Atlanta?s foremost experts on indoor air quality and toxic mold Jeremy Shelton, has announced that the company has recently opened an office in Marietta, GA. Having provided the entire metro Atlanta area with indoor air quality and mold testing services since 2009, Mr. Shelton brings more than a decade of practical experience to the water damage restoration industry.

Having devoted the last ten years of his life to studying and remedying mold toxicity indoors Shelton has quickly built one of the most trusted mold remediation firms in all of Georgia. Shelton and his team have worked on projects for clients such as Georgia Southern University and served as an expert witness in multiple court cases. The team?s experience and skillset is unmatched, Shelton himself holds certifications in Water Damage Restoration and Applied Microbial Remediation through IICRC, which is the indoor air-quality industry?s most respected accreditation body.

These certifications coupled with MoldStar?s vast experience are important due to the fact that the State of Georgia requires zero licensing or education for contractors to perform mold remediation. Meaning there are a number of untrained and unqualified contractors offering mold remediation services. The company says that no one should trust their indoor health and toxic mold exposure to unqualified companies.

Homeowners interested in hiring MoldStar should first receive a remediation protocol from a certified microbial consultant. Once the remediation protocol has been received, MoldStar can assist homeowners and help build the most cost effective, yet comprehensive solution for addressing their mold problem. Because MoldStar uses the most current techniques, chemicals, and practices, MoldStar customers typically save between 25-50%, while receiving a better, more comprehensive service.
