McHenry, Illinois based Excel Restoration Service Inc. is providing water damage restoration services to the residents of Arlington Heights. Excel Restoration Service is a locally owned-and-operated restoration provider that serves the communities of the greater Chicago region. More information about the company's services can be found at the following link: Water Damage Arlington Heights.

As Excel Restoration Service explains, water damage can be caused by a number of factors. These may include burst, broken or leaky pipes; flooding from heavy rains; clogged drains or overflowing tubs, showers or toilets, etc.; sewage backups, damage caused by a malfunctioning air conditioner; leaking appliances, water heaters, plumbing, etc; and more. However, whatever the cause of the water damage might be, it is important to make sure that it is fixed immediately.

In addition to causing structural damage and potentially ruining a house, water damage will lead to mold and mildew, which can be very dangerous to the health of any occupants. It can lead to skin problems and respiratory issues as well, especially for those who already have conditions like asthma or eczema. In light of all of this, it is important that everyone has access to a reliable way to deal with any water damage issues.

Excel Restoration Service's team of experts use professional-grade equipment and cleanup techniques to extract the water and dry out the entire affected area. Justin Parat of Excel Restoration Services says, "When we start working on a water damage restoration project, our first step is to resolve the source of the water damage. Whether it's a leaky dishwasher, broken supply line or sewage backup, we begin by fixing the root cause of the problem. Once we are done with that, we can move on to the other parts and ensure that we can restore your property to its former glory."

Once the cause of the water damage has been addressed, they remove standing water from the affected area by sewage backups, vacuum and other cleanup equipment. They then inspect the damage and remove materials that cannot be restored (which may include plaster, drywall, ceilings, carpeting and carpet padding). Unfortunately, during this stage, furniture and paper made items may need to be discarded.

The company is then able to use professional-grade air movers and dehumidifiers to dry out the affected area for carpet cleaning. It may take several days, depending on the extent of the water damage. After being dried out, the area is thoroughly sanitized and deodorized to prevent mold and smells from developing over time. Reconstruction is the final step; this may include hanging new drywall, laying new carpeting, installing new cabinets and refinishing hardwood floors.

The services provided by Excel Restoration Service Inc. have earned them a lot of praise from customers who needed water damage restoration in Arlington Heights IL. The company has a perfect 5-Star rating on their Google profile. Margaret M. writes in their review, "Brandon and the team were very responsive, courteous, efficient, thorough and great cleaning up. They also kept me informed on the timeline of repairs. Our kitchen had water damage through the ceiling due to ice damming. I called Excel because they were working with a neighbor with a similar issue. My neighbor recommended them. I was grateful for their service and will call them again."

In another review, Mary M. writes, "I had a flood in my townhouse and called Excel. They immediately came out to assess the damage. Brandon S. contacted my insurance and worked diligently to create a plan and settlement. Brandon Y. and his team worked on the restorations, which included painting, flooring, carpeting and a whole remodel of the kitchen and bathroom. The work was completed beautifully, and the whole team was very professional and courteous. Throughout this process, whenever I had questions or concerns, Brandon S. would immediately return my calls and offer solutions. I can not say enough about this company. They are amazing, and I give them my highest recommendation."
