

Xpress Exterior Design: Baltimore Roofing Company Expands Commercial Flat Roofing Division

January 28, 2022

January 28, 2022 -
Xpress Exterior Design: Baltimore Roofing Company has recently announced the expansion of their commercial flat roofing division to provide better service for local Baltimore building owners, property managers, and facility directors. This new division will expand the roofing company?s commercial staff and resources to be able to provide comprehensive service throughout the Baltimore metropolitan area. The much improved commercial roofing division will service: flat roofs, PVC roofs, low-slope roofs, TPO roofs, and industrial roofs. This division can provide commercial flat roof replacement, commercial flat roof repair, and installation for new commercial roofs. They will also provide roof coatings, which is a kind of roof restoration.

Commercial buildings typically have flat roofs, in contrast to the sloped roofing of residential buildings. The key reason for this is cost-effectiveness. Building a sloped roof will require more materials and applying that to a commercial building, which would be many times bigger compared to a residential building, would be too expensive. Another important reason for using flat roofs is that there are height restrictions on buildings in many municipalities. Keeping the roof flat will optimize the available space for a particular building.

And with regards to roofing materials, commercial roofs commonly use single-ply roofing, such as thermoplastic polyolefin (TPO) and polyvinyl chloride (PVC) roofing materials. They can also offer EPDM roofing. EPDM is a kind of synthetic rubber that extremely flexible and durable and is therefore suitable as roofing material for flat and low-sloped roofs, which are typically used in commercial buildings.

Xpress Exterior Design has more than 25 years of providing the roofing services of buildings in the Baltimore metropolitan area. With the expansion of their commercial flat roofing division, they expect to significantly increase the number of commercial roofing customers. The quality of the roofing work that they have been providing is evidenced by the highly positive reviews they have been receiving.

For instance, Bruno M. recently game them a five star rating and said, ?The entire process was just about as smooth as it could be. Logan came out, took the time to inspect everything on his first initial visit, gave us great useful information about our situation, and helped us come up with a game plan. He was always available for us for every phone call and text when we had questions prior to our roof installation. The crew was exceptional. I'm very happy with our decision to go with Xpress Exterior Design: Baltimore Roofing Company.?

There are a number of factors that make Xpress Exterior Design stand out among its competitors. These include: their combined 50+ years of experience; their hundreds of highly positive five star reviews; their many commercial references; and the best commercial warranties in the industry.

They recommend that commercial building owners schedule a roofing inspection as a way to determine if there are any potential problems and provide the necessary remedies and possibly prolong the life of the roof. During the roof inspection they will take a look at a number of things, such as: signs of holes, blisters, or stretching; wear and tear; storm and hail damage; rusting panels; vegetation and ponding; roof-mounted HVAC systems; proper drainage; roof edges; roof substrate firmness; leak spots; membrane and flashing; and overall roof and exterior health.

Xpress Exterior Design was established because of the need for a reliable, dependable and trustworthy roofing contractor in the Baltimore metropolitan area. Their team has more than 50 years of combined experience in both roofing and home improvement services and they have set as their goal to become a brand that homeowners will be able to trust. They will always guarantee the quality of the workmanship they provide and will always make sure that their customers are completely satisfied.
