Pembroke Pines, Florida - February 01, 2022 -

Pembroke Pines, Florida based EPS Landscaping & Tree Service LLC is reaching out to the wider community to share a blog post on when and why tree care service is needed. EPS Landscaping & Tree Service has had a continued focus on producing helpful content about landscaping and tree care on their blog.

Greg O'Connell of EPS Landscaping & Tree Service says, "While you may think that tree care is something that you could accomplish by yourself, the truth is that it is a task that is often better left for the professionals. While there are many things you could no doubt do, ensuring you retain the services of an expert to take care of your trees will go a long way in ensuring that they are maintained well and are healthy for a long period."

Trimming, for instance, may seem like a straightforward task, but this actually involves more than simply cutting the branches off a tree randomly. It is a deliberate process that is carefully carried out with the intent to produce certain results. If it is not done well, the tree may be destroyed. Trimming and pruning are both important to ensure a tree grows well, and professionals know exactly when to trim or prune a tree.

For instance, the company explains that saplings can be trimmed to encourage them to grow in a structurally sound manner. If not properly maintained, trees can grow more densely than they should as well, and this decreases the amount of nutrient circulation and sunlight that they will receive. As they grow, careful trimming and pruning is important to ensure the trees' continued growth and beauty. Getting rid of the right extra branches can also stimulate the production of more leaves and fruits.

Professional tree care can also ensure that the trees are getting the right exposure to sunlight, shares EPS Landscaping & Tree Service. Additionally, it will keep the trees from experiencing root loss, which can happen when roots lack sufficient oxygen or water. The last thing any homeowner wants is their trees lacking a proper root system.

Tree care professionals can similarly be of extreme help in events where a tree is diseased or dying. Whether due to age, disease or weather damage, the affected tree may need to be removed in its entirety. If affected trees are not removed, they will become vulnerable to pests and insects, which can spread diseases to other plants or otherwise ruin the area. Bringing in a trained arborist to help means that the problem can be diagnosed swiftly, following which the pests can be contained. Sometimes, the tree can be saved by appropriate pruning and pesticide application. If the tree cannot be saved, the team will be able to carefully remove it without affecting any of the other plants in the vicinity.

EPS Landscaping & Tree Service is dedicated to sharing helpful tips and useful information for homeowners in their landscaping and tree care blog. The company has tackled many topics including the importance of removing tree stumps, signs of needing emergency tree removals, aspects to consider when planting new trees and more.
