February 23, 2022 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Vienna, VA based Northern Virginia Cleaning Company is launching a new company that will focus on providing commercial cleaning services for move ins and outs. The company has previously established itself as a reliable commercial cleaning provider that serves businesses in the Northern Virginia area.

Daniil Osminin from Northern Virginia Cleaning Company says, "We are excited to announce that we are launching a brand new set of commercial cleaning services. The residents of Northern Virginia can expect us to provide every standard service provided by commercial cleaning companies, with the added trust and reliability that we are known for."

Northern Virginia Cleaning Company's new branch of cleaning services will include both office deep cleaning and janitorial services, efficiently and effectively preparing the commercial properties so they're clean and ready for business. In the new covid world, staff/customers will feel relieved in the knowledge that Northern Virginia Cleaning Company have done everything in their power to ensure the space is clean, tidy and covid safe.

Osminin says, "There is no challenge that our team of dedicated commercial cleaners can't handle. Whatever it is you have got, we can take care of it. Connect with us today to find out how we can help you."

By letting Northern Virginia Cleaning Company take over the cleaning process, commercial customers can shift a great deal of stress off their hands. Northern Virginia Cleaning Company's team of expert cleaners will tidy up the place and get it ready for use as quickly as possible.

The company assures that they have a team of professional and friendly cleaners who are specialized in move in/out cleaning services. Their cleaning staff will take care of all the deep cleaning needs and leave the property gleaming. Similarly, Northern Virginia Cleaning Company also provides janitorial services for periodic cleaning of commercial properties across the Virginia area.

The main services provided by Northern Virginia Cleaning Company are focused on commercial cleaning. Osminin says, "If you want to ensure the health, safety and happiness of your employees, it is very important that you maintain a clean environment. Office or commercial spaces are often densely populated with people who are in close quarters for hours on end every day. No matter how diligent you are about cleaning common areas around the office, behind desks and in other hard to reach places where dirt tends to accumulate, the truth is that there is likely other dirt and debris that you could be overlooking. You need a team of experts to handle all that, and that is where the Northern Virginia Cleaning Company comes in."

Northern Virginia Cleaning Company's team is trained to properly disinfect common surfaces, sanitize keyboards and mice, clean blinds, mop tiled floors, dust ledges and sills, clean light fixtures, empty trash cans on a regular basis and complete other tasks that will help transform the workplace into a clean, safe environment. In addition to being experts in cleaning offices and other similar business properties, Northern Virginia Cleaning Company states that their team also has the expertise and training necessary to clean for a wide variety of other commercial properties, including healthcare offices, medical offices, dental practices, veterinary clinics, legal offices, financial institutions and more.
