YourProfitWeb, Inc., Rochester Search Engine Optimization Specialists based out of Rochester, New York, has just achieved their 100,000th page one ranking for their clients. This is a huge feat for many SEO companies, as it means that their marketing tactics are working for the businesses which hire them. The milestone is being celebrated by the company as a great success, as they continue working with companies across the country to improve online rankings and recognition.

Rochester SEO by YourProfitWeb, Inc. has been featured through a number of reputable news sources, such as FOX, Wall Street Select, ABC News, Daily News, The New York Times, and more. The company offers a free website analysis to new clients, and specializes in services like reputation marketing and management, video marketing and production, press releases, and of course search engine optimization and search engine marketing.

Search engine optimization is becoming more important in the business world as the internet continues to grow and expand into all industries and marketplaces. The service helps companies to rank higher in the results given to individual queries on websites such as Google and Yahoo, which can be more traffic and revenue for those who are seen first. The company explains: "Each day hundreds of millions of people search for products and services online. While some of them click the paid ads, the vast majority of searchers click on the free search results. If your site ranks highly in the natural search results you get free traffic that converts to paying customers. The web is a giant marketplace and the search results are where the battle for hearts, minds, eye balls, and wallets is won or lost."

The company has been candid in their hopes that this jump to 100,000 first page rankings among clients, will encourage new companies to jump on board and embrace the future of search engine optimization as a viable marketing practice. They invite all those interested in learning more about their company and services to "Visit Us on Twitter" and check out their official website for more information. Here, potential clients can get an idea of what other clients are achieving, interact with the company, and inquire on services which may be useful for individual businesses.
