Sarasota, FL - For someone overcoming addiction, navigating the sober landscape requires a solid foundation and a treatment center that offers individualized care. Hannah, a recent graduate of WhiteSands Alcohol and Drug Rehab Sarasota, thanked the Sarasota treatment center for doing just that. In a 5-star Google review, she detailed how her search for solace led her to treatment at WhiteSands helping her get her life back on track. She's now living a fulfilling life in recovery.

"This place is amazing," Hannah said. "It has been a safe place for me to attend and get some help with my addiction."

The Sarasota treatment center offers custom-tailored detox and rehabilitation programs for people struggling with drug and alcohol addiction. Treatment is personalized to address each individual's addiction as well as any co-occurring mental health disorders. WhiteSands specializes in treating what's at the heart of the mental and emotional components of addiction. In doing so, they help patients lay a solid foundation for recovery and have greater success with long-term sobriety.

Many rehab programs leave patients physically and mentally unchallenged during treatment. WhiteSands has created an atmosphere that encourages patients to be active participants in their recovery, remaining mentally and physically engaged. An individual in treatment for 4-6 weeks has the opportunity to not only address the root causes of their addiction but also spend time working on their physical health and general life management skills.

WhiteSands employs full-time highly-credentialed staff dedicated to patients' success in all stages of recovery. The team of clinicians, therapists, and counselors provide a great deal of compassion and empathy, working closely with patients and tailoring treatment to their unique needs. This facilitates treatment efficacy and leads to a higher level of success in overall recovery.

In her review, Hannah said, "Nicole is amazing and made me feel human again and like I'm meant to fight for this life and not give up. Thank you, WhiteSands!!! I would recommend this place to anyone. Thanks to Nicole making it worth going to and fighting for life again.

The positive impact WhiteSands continues to make in the Sarasota community can be seen in the many testimonials left on Google by past patients like Hannah. Additionally, Newsweek magazine named WhiteSands the number one addiction treatment center in Florida in 2020 and 2021.

WhiteSands has built a reputation of excellence based on raising industry standards in addiction treatment. Anyone in need of help for substance abuse and addiction can call WhiteSands anytime, day or night, at (877) 640-7820. Intake specialists can facilitate getting into treatment right away and calls are 100% confidential. To learn more visit www.whitesandstreatment.com.
