Juiced SEO Agency, a search engine optimization company based out of Vancouver, BC in Canada, has moved into the European markets, specifically taking root in Barcelona, Spain. The company has made great strides in approaching the search marketing industry in such a way that their methods work in a multitude of nationalities and languages. The company has said the following in regards to their services and how they work to improve other businesses: "As more and more players enter the arena of online marketing it becomes more than essential to be found online. Juiced SEO will do just that and over time drive continual organic traffic direct to your website. These days it is not enough to simply create a website and sit back and wait for traffic. It will get very lonely waiting for all the sales to come in from your online business if nobody knows you even exist."

Although the company started with a small following through their Vancouver SEO office, they have continued to evolve and grow, and with this growth has come the success of many clients within their office. So much so that the company decided to extend their brand into other markets, testing the water and providing European companies with the same success that North Americans have found through the services offered. These services include social media management, web design, reputation management, and of course search engine optimization and search engine marketing.

With the newest addition to the company's platform through their Barcelona Search Engine Optimization branch, the company has been transparent in their hopes to educate and engage companies in Barcelona on the advantages which they could reap through this form of marketing. They have been quoted in saying: "You may have thought about optimizing your site for the search engines, or you may have used another local or national SEO agency that failed to make a profitable difference. You may have even typed "SEO Barcelona" or "Agencia SEO Barcelona" in search of a digital marketing company in the area. If you're on the fence and unsure how SEO can positively impact your business, and then it's time to start looking at the proven benefits of SEO."

Vancouver SEO invites all those interested in learning more to contact them through their online site, either in Vancouver or Barcelona.
