

Surrey Real Estate Company Debuts New Vancouver Real Estate Website

November 09, 2015

November 09, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

The Kareen Group, a real estate firm based out of lower mainland of Vancouver, BC, has just launched their new website that allows individuals to see all of the Vancouver real estate listings in one place. This site brings together a massive collection of information in one easy to use tool. The site includes such additional tools and features as intelligent search, buying, selling, financing, and a list of resources.

The firm describes the website this site as a seller's dream. It provides the user with a free home evaluation along with a special web client loyalty plan that saves sellers money and access to properties. This allows sellers not only to compare to but to help find their next purchase. The web client loyalty plan is unique to the Kareen group and offers many money saving options. Consumers can also use the site to contact the company directly if they are looking to either list or purchase a property.

The new site by the Kareen Group, a realtor Vancouver can trust, allows users to build an online account, which provides the ability to save searches. This makes it easier for homeowners or buyers to recognize past homes which may have shown promise, or to see where they have already looked, and with what types of specifications. Kareen, the owner and operator of the Vancouver Real estate company, has said the following in regards to the thought process which has gone into this site, and what she hopes to accomplish in terms of helping her clients: "Buying or selling a property can be a complex process that requires a multitude of knowledge, skill and experience in order to orchestrate a successful transaction. As a real estate professional, I believe that true success in my field is a result of having experience in many areas of business that can look after every detail."

Some of the areas which the tool provides up to date information on are Surrey, Delta, White Rock, Langley, Vancouver, Richmond, and Ladner, among others in the lower mainland. Thousands of properties can be displayed in a single search, with a variety of property basics to narrow the search. Characteristics such as property type, area type, price range, number of bathrooms, and number of bedrooms can all be plugged into the tool when shopping for a new home.

For home buyers who require a more personalized touch, and prefer to have their homes chosen based on even more specific qualities, users of the new site can also input a description of what they seek along with personal contact information for Kareen and her team to get back to them with more personalized options.
