Phoenix Treasures LLC, a company based out of Cape Coral, FL, has a new product which has just been shipped. The new French Press coffee brewer will provide consumers with coffee, which the company describes, as having the most flavor and aroma without all of the bitterness of percolated beverages. The company describes their work within the coffee product industry as follows: "Coffee has been around for years and years and is part of our day, some say the best part. When Phoenix Treasures LLC got started we wanted to be involved in an industry that was growing and fun and provide products that were easy to use, stylishly designed and quality made. It is important to us that we offer only the most user friendly items."

Phoenix Treasures LLC has seen great success with their previous product, the Phoenix Electric Coffee Grinder, and they have been transparent in their hopes that this new product will fare just as well. The grinder, seen online at <http://www.phoenixtreasures.org/>, has collected a number of positive reviews from customers. The company encourages those considering the new coffee press to read through these reviews to better understand the type of quality and satisfaction which the team's other product has seen. One satisfied customer, Bryan, wrote: "I'm so happy that I found this product, I'm 43 years old and was looking for a good quality coffee bean, spice and herb grinder a long time. This one is a keeper for sure! I put in my first scoops of coffee beans and knew right away that this was a good one. The quality is there and the price is right as well. All that is left to do is enjoy the coffee I just ground up. Thanks guys, great product."
