VinousQ is proud to announce that their popular wine opener is now available through Shopify. While it has been available on Amazon, a popular selling platform, for some time, the company was keen to expand its reach. Shopify is known as one of the most secure selling platforms in the world and it is quickly gaining in popularity.

Spectar Que, Assistant Manager at VinousQ says: "VinousQ has received so many positive reviews and feedbacks. We thought it was time to expand our reach beyond the world of Amazon, and further extend this product to the world of wine lovers, drinkers, fanatics, and enthusiasts."

One of the reasons why people prefer Shopify over Amazon is because it has so many different payment options. Now, the corkscrew can be purchased using PayPal and Amazon payments, as well as many others. This adds an extra sense of security, above and beyond the buyer protection that is offered by both platforms.

Amazon will continue to fulfill storage, shipping and handling. This is because their track record in terms of fulfilling orders is exemplar. As such, VinousQ has decided to continue to partner with them for all purchases, regardless of the platform through which they are obtained.

"We wanted to offer a much more convenient reach for mobile and tablet users, thus we chose to make our product available on Shopify as well," adds Spectar Que. "The added benefit of offering more payment methods than ever before is like the icing on the cake."

Meanwhile, the bottle opener continues to receive many positive reviews and it is well on its way towards becoming a bestselling item. Katie J. says, "This is a huge improvement on the standard corkscrew. The screw is beveled so it pierces easily and cleanly into the cork. It has a no slip grip so it is comfortable and provides traction even with wet hands. My husband likes this one so much that he threw out our expensive and bulky rabbit wine opener after using this." Julie says, "This Wing Corkscrew is heavier than the one I already have at home. You can tell right away that this is very well made and durable by the look and how it feels when I open the box. It even comes in a very nice presentable box that is ready to gift wrap."
