Her case study can be found at the following link: Maria Gudelis Case Study.

Gudelis says, "Even though this particular client had never done anything online before, they followed my proven system and saw results. With multiple 5 and 6-figure product launches under my belt and having held the responsibility for more than 3 multi-million dollar companies created with the right strategy and execution to market, I have more than proven my expertise ? and all my systems are developed from my own experience. This case study is a unique look into how you too can take advantage of methods I developed to ensure your success. Instead of spending months making a program nobody wants, I can help you use that same time to pre-sell before you even make a program!?"

A Western MBA graduate, Maria Gudelis did her time in the corporate world after university, working for Fortune 500s such as Price Waterhouse, Computer Sciences Corp., Deloitte and Touche (specializing in business process consulting) and SAP. Once she had gained a taste for entrepreneurship, she started an online hosting company in the year 2000 to take advantage of the then-new internet. The company served small and medium-sized enterprises (SMEs) in California after successfully raising $1.5 million of venture capital from a strategic hardware partner in Silicon Valley. Since then, she has taken an interest in several areas. She was the co-founder of Wildhorse Performance Marketing, Forum for Women Entrepreneurs, Venture Capitalist, raised millions for her and other software companies, and for the last decade she has dedicated herself to helping over 25,000 people create online marketing strategy and execution plans that create profits with purpose.
