The asphalt singles look great and I get compliments from my neighbors. They took the time to cleaned up after themselves and made sure that nothing was left behind in my yard. They helped me out by taking down my old cable dish and disposing it so that I didn't have to drive to the dump. That was a huge plus for me. I will recommend McHenry Roofing to family and friends.?

These include: pitched roofing; flat roofing; commercial roofing; soffit and fascia repair; gutters and downspouts; metal roofing; gutter guards; skylights and sun tunnels; home insurance coverage; and comprehensive roofing solutions. There are various factors that differentiate McHenry Roofing from the other roofing service providers in Baltimore and neighboring areas. These include the: next-day estimates; free consultations; in-house roofing crews; on-site project management; high quality roofing materials; in-house roofing crews; service from a locally owned and operated company; prompt and reliable service; and best warranties in the industry.

The replacement of a flat roof can be finished in one day to three days, depending on the materials used, the complexity of the roof, and weather conditions. Homes that have more complex flashing will naturally need a longer completion time. For a 3-tab shingle roof, it will typically need four days for its replacement, including one day for stripping and preparing the roof deck and three days for installing the new shingles. For a flat roof, replacement is more difficult than what one would imagine. For example, if torch-down materials are utilized, the fire-resistant adhesive must be provided with enough time to cure properly or it will fail when it gets exposed to rain or high temperatures.

For an asphalt shingle roof, it can be re-shingled in one to two days for an average size roof. Bigger homes may take three to five days to complete. Of course, the complexity, the weather, and the accessibility of the home, the completion may be shorter or longer.
