March 22, 2022 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

All About Fun Inflatables has recently announced that they have a large variety of fun inflatable bounce houses, games and more available for rental for parties and events outside of the Atlanta, Georgia area. The company provides delivery as well as professional setup of their inflatable rentals, so customers can have great parties without the fuss. All inflatables rented by All About Fun have been manufactured from high quality, lead-free vinyl, and the company thoroughly cleans and sanitizes each item before every rental. All About Fun even has other popular party attractions, including a mobile climbing wall, a bungee trampoline (also known as a "Monkey Jump") and photo booths with props that are great fun for all kinds of gathering, including reunions, parties, and company events. More information about all of the options available from All About Fun can be found on their website, at <https://www.allaboutfunga.com/>.

All About Fun Inflatables is highly rated on Google Maps, with 108 reviews averaging five stars. In fact, the company hasn't received any ratings lower than five stars on Google Maps, which indicates that they have a history of consistently satisfying their customers. One recent review states, "Very nice experience. The jumpy was delivered earlier and my daughter loved the extra time. The mermaid jump/ slide really made her party fun for all of the kids. I highly recommend giving them a call first. Equipment was in top shape and delivery guys were extremely nice." This is just one of many reviews praising the company for their quality products and excellent service. Many reviewers even say they plan to use All About Fun Inflatables for more events and parties in the future, and encourage others who might be interested to do the same. Clearly, All About Fun is loved by their community in the Georgia towns they serve. The company has an exciting selection of inflatables available for rental, including bounce houses, slides, and a number of bounce and slide combos. The Carnival 5 in 1 combo, for example, can hold up to 6 people at once, and features a huge moonwalk area, a crawl-through, an obstacle for climbing, and an exterior slide. The unit also has basketball hoops, and an Entanglement game mat sewn onto the surface of the bouncer. FingerSafe mesh netting also comes standard. This unit has a carnival fair design, but there are designs that will appeal to any taste, including many that are themed off favorite characters and media. There's a bounce house patterned like a dalmatian, and combo units designed after fire stations and the popular kids movie Finding Nemo. For parties with young children, All About Fun has a selection of toddler oriented designs, including an "Under the Sea" themed crawl through maze, and units themed after candy and crayons. They also have a large selection of slides, including inflatable water slides for hot summer days, as well as dry slides for times when getting soaking wet is less appropriate.

Party planners looking for a one stop shop for all their carnival supply needs will also be glad to know that All About Fun has a number of other party related rentals, including cotton candy and snowcone machines, and less exciting but still often necessary items like canopy tents and chairs. The standard rental is for 8 hours, and they generally set up 1-3 hours before the rental time starts, to be sure everything will run smoothly before the event begins.

They do have a number of space requirements for their products - as their inflatables are big, and can easily be damaged by rubbing against trees, walls or rocks, so readers interested in using the inflatable rental services from All About Fun should consult the company website for more information, or contact the company by phone or email to ask any questions that may be left unanswered by the website and FAQ.
