Anecdotal, a company based in Bodakdev, Ahmedabad, India, has recently launched their website for selling T-shirts India citizens can wear to tell something funny or something about themselves. Currently, their T-shirts are available in five different categories. These are: T-shirts that tell something about the person; T-shirts that tell about destination; funny T-shirts; world's best T-shirts; and one liner T-shirts. T-shirts are one of the most popular garments today and they can be worn by everyone. They are also quite affordable, which is apparently one of the reasons why they are so popular. And they can be printed with anything, which means they can be used by people to express themselves or tell something, whether it is an inspiring message or something that can make other people laugh.

T-shirts that allow people to express themselves typically deliver a message that is funny or unique. For example, in the Missed? T-shirt, it highlights the various things that people missed during the pandemic, such as meeting with friends, driving, or enjoying drinks and dancing in pubs and bars. These are T-shirts for all since they can be worn by anyone who agrees with the message. The T-shirts from Anecdotalé are typically half sleeves T-shirts with a round neck so that they can be worn comfortably for casual wear, summer wear, night wear, travel wear, daily wear, and more. The T-shirts look classy and stylish and are made from breathable fabric. The fabric used for this T-shirt is 100 percent cotton.

For the Maintain Distance T-shirt, it presents an angry emoticon that reminds people to keep their distance, which is very important during the pandemic. The fabric used for this T-shirt is 52 percent cotton and 48 percent polyester. Its soft material makes it comfortable to wear.

The Pundemic Time T-shirt is made from 100 percent cotton and it has been designed to be stylish and to be worn daily. The fabric is soft to the touch to ensure that it is comfortable to wear. It can easily be matched with a pair of sneakers and jeans.

The Learnt in Lockdown T-shirt presents some funny messages about what people have learned during the lockdown. For instance, many people have enjoyed posting photos and other images on social media while sitting on the couch. Another thing the people usually did during the lockdown is to cook delicious dishes, or to they thought, and perhaps even posted photos of these dishes on social media. Other people may have tried doing some home-based workouts using common items, such as bottles and other items as substitutes for weights.

The Smiley T-shirts, in keeping with the pandemic theme, shows smileys wearing face masks. It encourages people to keep smiling behind those masks and be happy even during difficult times. These T-shirts are made from fabrics that are 100 percent cotton to ensure comfort even for daily wear. This T-shirt is designed to spread love and happiness rather than disease.
