

ROI Construction On The Verge Of Breaking Elusive Threshold Of 150 5 Star Reviews

March 14, 2022

Savage, Maryland - March 14, 2022 -
ROI Construction, a family-owned and operated, second-generation roofing business that has operations all over Maryland is about to break the threshold of 150 5-star reviews on its Google My Business page. ROI Construction has, so far, received 146 5-star reviews and it continually receives accolades for its pricing, professionalism of project management, and overall customer service on both residential and commercial projects.

The company is highlighting a recent review that it received from a satisfied customer who praised it for displaying meticulous attention to cleanup and organization after the job was completed on their site. The testimonial says, ?Cody, and everyone else at ROI Construction, were top-notch! They were professional every step of the way, worked with me on start time, and were extremely, extremely clean. They tarped my outdoor furniture and plants to protect them, and they even went to the neighbors to clean up what debris had fallen next door, prompting even my neighbors to compliment them! I would highly recommend, and that's hard to do these days!?

The company also received a testimonial from a repeat customer who had availed of the company?s services multiple times over the last year and a half. The customer says, ?We had ROI perform 3 separate projects at our house during the past 14-16 months since we moved in. The projects were the replacement of a flat membrane roof, sanding and painting the entire house, and replacement of a window. Each job has been done with extreme professionalism, the crews cleaned up after each day and the quality of the work was fantastic. As with many construction projects, changes came up, but I felt that Justin and ROI treated us fairly throughout the process. ROI will remain the first company I call for any work that needs to be done at my house.?

The owner and operator of ROI Construction, Dominic Dipietro, responded to the customer?s 5-star review by saying, ?Hi Chris, we're glad you were satisfied with the work completed for each project. Thank you for choosing us as your first choice for future projects. We appreciate the review!?

ROI Construction serves several areas in Maryland including regions such as Bethesda, Chevy Chase, Clarksville, Ellicott City, Fulton, Northwest DC, and Silver Spring. The company is fully licensed and insured and has been providing its services to local communities in Maryland for over 25 years. All of the company?s repairs carry a 1-year warranty on the work completed (except for nail pops).

When asked to elaborate on how he manages to run such a successful and well-reviewed venture, Dominic Dipietro talks about the company?s services by saying, ?We place all of our primary focus on our craftsmanship and professionalism to ensure that we do a great job on every site that we visit while delivering top-notch service with a smile. We want our customers to get the best return on investment for the time and money that they pour into their roof maintenance and repairs. We want them to be able to charge a higher price for their property further down the road if they ever decide to capitalize on it. We also want our customers to have a pleasant time while they live in the homes that they have undoubtedly worked hard to earn. We leave no stone unturned to make sure that no roofing problem ever comes in the way of their happiness and wellbeing. If you live in or own property in our service area, remember to call ROI Construction if you ever happen to face a roofing problem. There is no other company better suited to solve your roofing challenges in all of the Old Line State.?
