Concepts to Reality Landscaping, a business in Prescott, AZ, has announced that they have experienced record growth in business. Since receiving the Super Service Award in 2013, growth has been steadily increasing, but a recent boom seems to have taken place. For the company, this is a true testament to not just their quality of service, but also to the desire of Arizona residents to create a beautiful state.

"The landscape in Arizona presents some significant challenges and many people have long thought that there was very little that could be done in terms of landscaping," says Mike Biegel from Concepts to Reality Landscaping. "We are so happy to see that this idea is changing and that more and more people are now coming to us to help them create a beautiful, practical landscape for their homes."

The Prescott landscape design company focuses on various areas of landscaping, including pavers, irrigation, weed control, and low volt lighting. What sets the business apart, and what makes them so popular, is that they don't just listen to their clients' needs, but that they ask further questions to really cover all angles. Many people don't think, for instance, about practicalities such as whether they have children or dogs or like to garden or grow organic vegetables. All of these things are important when it comes to designing an outdoor area and this is what the company does.

Those who have worked with the company in the past have been full of praise about their experiences with regards to the landscape designs. "You have a great ability to listen to everything we liked and wanted, then incorporate that into the design," says one happy customer. "I know we had many revisions, but each time you presented them exactly as we had envisioned. You added your creative touch and made recommendations to our plan to really bring it all together."

For the Prescott landscaping company, no job is too big, too small or too 'out there' to be completed. They are ready to take on any job that comes their way. Considering the huge influx of new clients, they may even have to hire more staff, thereby contributing to the Prescott economy.
