U-Guard Security Products, a business in Lebanon, GA, has launched their new product, which is a spy camera that looks like a pen. This is an executive pen that contains a hidden HD video camera. Suitable for real spies, it is already proving to be very popular.

"Our spy pen is perfect for amateur and professional spies alike," says Steve Trudeau from U-Guard Security Products. "This is truly like something out of a James Bond movie. The video camera pen works as a real pen, but it contains a hidden camera that is able to capture full HD pictures in stunning quality."

One of the key features of the spy camera pen is that it comes with a motion activated audio and video recorder. This is why it is also classed as spy gear for real spies, as they don't have the opportunity to switch a camera on or off when they are on the job. Rather, they need to be able to remain inconspicuous at all times.

The hidden camera motion activated technology is what makes this pen so popular across the market. "The pen actually works on this one so I can use it as pen and no one will know its a camera too," says K. Wethington. "I like that it detects motion. We left the other day and decided to leave it on just to see how well it actually works and it picked up our cats and dog playing. The picture was real clear and it picked everything up. I plan on using this spy pen a lot."

The spy camera, which is known as The Spy Spot, currently comes with a spy equipment gift case as well as an 8GB SD memory card to save the recordings. Although the product is classed as professional spy equipment, there is no need for someone to hold a license in order to be able to use it. As such, it is a perfect product for anyone from a private detective to parents looking to catch their teenager smoking. It is believed that the product will soon be classed as the best spy camera on the market, as it is gaining in popularity so quickly.
