Dry Star Offers Professional Water Damage Restoration In Scottsdale

April 05, 2022

Mesa, Arizona - April 05, 2022 -
Mesa, AZ based Dry Star Restoration has extended their water damage restoration services to include the homeowners and businesses of Scottsdale. The company?s expertise has made them a favorite among the communities they serve, and they are eager to share the benefit of their vast experience with customers in and around Scottsdale as well. As such, those looking for prompt water damage restoration in Scottsdale are welcome to contact the company today.

Due to the nature of water damage, homeowners are strongly advised to contact their area?s water remediation expert as soon as they notice a problem. The aim here is to have a professional onsite soon enough to assess the source of the water damage, and they can in turn stop the water from spreading to other areas of the house. Dry Star?s team has identified a number of sources in their time, from leaky piping to floods, excess humidity and more. Whatever the source is, it has to be found and cut off to stop water entering the property. However, this is only the first step.

As their name suggests, Dry Star Restoration specializes in restoring properties to their pre-loss condition, and their goal is to make it appear as if the property never suffered any damage at all. From their base in Mesa, they can be on their way to a customer within 90 minutes of receiving a call for help, and the team is capable of addressing the effects of water disasters on both commercial and residential properties.

Once the source of the water has been addressed, the team will use modern tools and techniques to remove and extract the water that is already present in the area. This may include pumping out the water as well as using moisture-detecting tools to track where the water has migrated, thereby ensuring it is all captured. The company assures customers that all structural damage they find will be fixed, and industry-standard techniques are employed to prevent certain materials from warping, swelling, delaminating or buckling.

As capable flooring contractors in Phoenix, they can also replace a customer?s flooring to the point it looks good as new, and this applies for virtually every aspect of the property, from the walls to the doors, windows and even the furniture in many cases. Additionally, customers can rest assured that the company will deal with any mold or odors that they uncover in the process.

S. Nelson says in their Google review, ?Robert at Dry Star always makes sure our family is well taken care of. The first time we used them, our kitchen sink had leaked and caused water damage through our cabinetry etc and everything had to be ripped out and replaced. It ended up being a much bigger job than we expected, but we got to add the changes to the kitchen we wanted in the process, and it was a smooth process overall. The second time, we found mold in one of our bathroom cabinets from an outside source. They came quickly and removed the mold and quoted repair. They are honest and reliable and make sure you?re well taken care of and happy with your service. 10/10 recommend! Noah and all of the other techs that came were pleasant and kind as well as informative.?

C. Panetta gives the company an enthusiastic recommendation as well, explaining how the company did their elderly relatives the courtesy of patiently going over the issue in detail (water damage in their ceiling). They also praise how the company was quickly able to identify the root of the problem and wasted no time getting to work. The review says, ?David and Jacob came by a few days later and were in and out within two hours. They removed the damaged area and cleaned up quickly and were a joy to have in my home. Very respectful and professional. Overall, I would recommend Dry Star to anyone. Professional, timely, worked with my unusual schedule, and above all, their employees were all very helpful, patient and respectful. Which, sadly, isn?t always the case when companies are dealing with older folks like my grandparents. Can?t say enough good things about this company and its employees.?

Dry Star Restoration can be reached 24/7, and they offer free estimates to all customers. All their technicians are IICRC certified as well. Richard Appel of Dry Star Restoration is available in the event that customers wish to follow up on any further inquiries.
