Beaverton, Oregon - April 08, 2022 -

True Potential Chiropractic, a clinic in Beaverton, OR, wants to emphasize how a corrective care chiropractor in Beaverton can help people address the underlying alignment and structural problems that often lead to pain and injury. Corrective chiropractic care goes beyond the usual pain relief that is provided by a chiropractor through adjustments. The typical chiropractic care provided is focused on providing relief for the immediate pain. Corrective chiropractic care goes beyond that by treating the misalignments in the body that lead to pain and injury. A comprehensive approach is used to address the structural and misalignment issues, such as adjustments, exercises, and stretching.

At True Potential Chiropractic, their chiropractic physicians use digital x-ray studies to determine the root cause of the problem along with re-exams and post x-rays to monitor progress and provide proof of the results. After a comprehensive doctor's report, they will perform spinal correction by using gentle corrective chiropractic methods. They also teach patients special corrective exercises intended to help correct and strengthen their own specific issues. These exercises are usually done in-office or in the comfort and security of the patient's home. These corrective exercises are designed to enhance the effectiveness of the neuro-spinal correction provided to the patient.

There are a number of factors that differentiate True Potential Chiropractic as provider of the best Beaverton chiropractor services. These include their award-winning services, such as: pain relief and corrective care through pre- and post x-ray analysis to correct the problem and monitor progress; safe and gentle prenatal and postpartum family care, including pediatric care for infants and kids; treatment for past and new injuries from sports-related trauma and car collisions; gentle and effective in-office corrective exercises; professional bodywork therapy provided by a team of licensed massage therapists; assisted stretching with their team of stretch professionals; and safe and gentle spinal, extremity and temporomandibular joint disorder (TMJD) care done by highly-rated and trusted chiropractic physicians.

Meanwhile, True Potential Chiropractic has also provided on their website documentation of success stories of their patients. For instance, one patient was suffering from constant upper back pain. She was also experiencing hand numbness a number of times a day and this interfered with her ability to work and crochet. She also used an inhaler weekly for asthma. After completing Dr. Bryen Bell's recommendations for corrective care, she is now pain-free and practically inhaler-free. In another case, the patient was suffering from chronic low back pain, which has been ongoing for the past 16 years. The pain prevented him from sitting on the ground, exercising regularly, playing basketball, and playing with his children. After corrective care chiropractic treatment, he was able to play with his kids without limitations and he has even joined an adult basketball league.

Launched in 2013, True Potential Chiropractic has made it its mission to provide lifestyle care for everyone. Over the years, they have grown into one of the leading providers of family corrective care and wellness in the Pacific Northwest. Founder Dr. Bryen Bell specializes in providing non-drug solutions as the first choice in health care. He and his family had migrated to the Pacific Northwest during the summer of 2013 and it was during that year that he established the fully computerized and advanced corrective care family wellness center in Beaverton, Oregon. This is a family and sports rehab chiropractic practice that is focused on health and wellness, by addressing maintenance and prevention instead of acting only after a health problem has occurred, such as, disease, pain, or disability. He bases his philosophy on the six laws of the human body, which are: diet, rest, mindset, exercise, alignment, and stress management. Dr. Bell has a chiropractic degree (D.C.) and a bachelor of science degree in human biology that he obtained from the Cleveland Chiropractic College in Los Angeles.
