Gamerse Social Wallet's Share-to-Earn model Plays Nice With NFT's, Streaming, And Cryptocurrency

March 28, 2022

Santa Clarita, California - March 28, 2022 -
Santa Clarita, California. Defi-gamefi.com has released a report on the world?s first digital wallet with a play to earn feature that also integrates well with other digital world assets. The report describes Gamerse which unifies the NFT gaming ecosystem can bring all your online gaming friends in one place.

?There are so many gaming platforms out there like Xbox, Steam, and Blizzard,? states Raul Meza, content director of Defi-gamefi.com. ?There are also systems that allow you to communicate with your friends even while they are on different platforms and playing different games. You can tell how much people love that. The problem is that other digital assets like NFT?s don?t have them. The Gamerse Social Wallet has come along to try to change that.?

The Gamerse specialized crypto wallet will be compatible with every game within Gamerse?s unified ecosystem, joining them all under one dashboard. From here, a user can see their MyGamerse profile, their cryptocurrencies, and their NFTs.

It will have a built-in chat feature, text, voice, and video, bringing a social layer to the platform as a whole and other games or metaverses that might not have their own chat systems. It will also let users stream their games to their friends and followers. These streams can even integrate with Gamerse?s Share-to-Earn model, which will help users earn rewards just for playing.

Gamerse will also connect with the outside world by allowing a user to lend virtual land, send crypto in Web2 format, and will be able to withdraw and deposit fiat.

To ensure that all of the parts are in working order and work well together, Gamerse will release the Social Wallet in stages.

More information on this subject can be found at Defi-gamefi.com which also hosts a video on the Gamerse Social Wallet.
