

Charlottesville Residential Painters Continue to Get Rave Reviews on Their Services

April 14, 2022

Charlottesville, VA - April 14, 2022 -
Piedmont Paint & Finish has established a reputation for being a more than reliable option when it comes to residential painting services in the Charlottesville Virginia area. As part of that, the company is no stranger to receiving glowing reviews on its residential painting projects after they have been completed. This includes a 5-star review from a recent customer that was quite impressed with the way that the company transformed his outdated interior home finish into one with a brighter and more modern look. That customer, Marco Aletto, stated, ?These gentlemen helped me paint an entire house that was stuck in the 80s and covered in wallpaper. The crew got all the wallpaper removed and added bright, modern colors throughout the whole house that changed its whole look. After dealing with other contractors, I only wish they could all be like the people working here.?

Other residential painting customers whom the company has done residential painting work for have expressed similar sentiments. Burnet Davis wrote, ?We are pleased to write a review of the painting work that Piedmont Paint & Finish completed for us recently. They did a very professional job in the preparation of the house (replacing some rotten boards, washing down the old paint, etc.), in the application of two coats of paint, cleaning up afterward, and coming back to fix some small issues we had overlooked during the walk-around. Mr. Morgan is a very pleasant man to work with and their painting crew was courteous, prompt, and competent. The cost of the project, including some extra detail work that they did, was entirely consistent with the other bids that we received. We would recommend them without reservation to anyone needing an excellent paint job." These reviews were taken from the company?s Google Maps Business Listing where they are rated a commendable 4.9 out of a possible 5-stars.

Company owner, Charles Davis, says, ?We are extremely grateful when a customer takes the time to thank us for their recently completed residential painting projects. These reviews indicate to us that the hard work and extra effort that we put into every residential painting project that we take on is really paying off as far as customer satisfaction is concerned.? Davis was quick to deflect much of the credit for the company?s success to its experienced and dedicated painting crews. Crews that know how to treat a customer the right way and also never look to cut corners on any home interior or exterior painting projects that they do.

The company owner says that it also helps that they only choose to use quality paints such as the Farrell-Calhoun 300 line which outperformed all national and regional paint brands in an independent test conducted by Dupont along with the Mythic Paint line which is uniquely non-toxic and has no off-gassing, VOCs, and cancer-causing toxins. It also comes in over 1200 colors that can be combined to match any color that a customer desires. Additional paint offerings include reputable Benjamin Moore and Sherwin Williams brand paints. He pointed out that their experienced paint staff is also available to offer their customers helpful advice about color, product selection, and more. They do this in a way where they don?t seek to push their ideas on a customer but rather use their experience to help a customer bring the vision that they have for their painting project to life. It was also brought up that they are very experienced when it comes to the demanding painting jobs that the areas many farms, estates, and other older properties require. Davis stated that they even have their own shop where they can expertly bring a customer?s outdated cabinets and furniture back to life.

The company owner mentioned that in addition to Charlottesville, they also are more than pleased to help residential customers in Ivy, Keswick, Nellysford, Wintergreen, Stony Creek, Richmond, and all of Albemarle County and the surrounding region bring their painting hopes through to fruition. He says that part of being reliable residential painters in Charlottesville area also means that their staff is happy to provide their customers with a free estimate and any other advice they need to help them successfully complete an upcoming residential painting project.
