The Volkswagen Taos is currently available in 3 trims ? Trendline, Comfortline, and Highline. The car is technically classified as a SUVW which stands for ?Sport Utility Volkswagen?, one of the company?s registered trademarks. The base model 2022 Taos Trendline, Comfortline, and Highline trims start at $26,695, $32,395, and $36,695 respectively. All variants of the Taos are equipped with a 1.5 TSI (Turbo Stratified Injection) engine, Volkswagen's pioneering technology for petrol engines that enables them to manufacture a compact and high-powered engine that uses less fuel. The engine is rated for 158 HP.

The trims are available with either an 8-speed automatic FWD (Front Wheel Drive) transmission or a 7-speed automatic AWD (All Wheel Drive) transmission. Volkswagen calls the technology behind the car?s transmission Tiptronic®. It is the company?s proprietary transmission technology which is a regular automatic transmission where the driver can move out of ?automatic mode? and use paddle shifters to shift up or down like a manual transmission. The All-Wheel-Drive variant of the Tiptronic® transmission is called the DSG with Tiptronic® 4MOTION. DSG is a true manual transmission that is controlled by hydraulics rather than the driver?s foot with a clutch pedal. The 4MOTION® All-Wheel Drive distributes power between the front and rear wheels as needed, enabling the Volkswagen Taos to be very efficient and easily controllable in adverse road conditions which are common in Canada due to its occasional extreme weather.

The Trendline trim comes with features such as the Volkswagen Digital Cockpit (instrument cluster), LED headlights with LED daytime running lights, 17" Lupin alloy wheels 7J x 17, the company?s keyless access technology KESSY Go with push-start button, heated front seats, and black roof rails. The Comfortline model offers features such as Wireless App-Connect smartphone integration (Android Auto®, Apple CarPlay®, MirrorLink®), Front Assist with Autonomous Emergency Braking, Blind Spot Monitor with Rear Traffic Alert, KESSY, leatherette seating surfaces, and an 8-way power driver seat with power recline. The Highline variant?s quality of life and entertainment features include Volkswagen Digital Cockpit Pro (10.25? configurable instrument cluster), BeatsAudio® Premium Audio System - 8 speakers plus subwoofer, satellite navigation, panoramic power sunroof, ventilated front seats, and interior ambient lighting that is customizable up to 10 colors.

A spokesperson for Vancouver Volkswagen talks about the 2022 Volkswagen Taos by saying, ?Though it is the company?s smallest SUVW yet, it still has an impressive amount of interior space to create a memorable driving experience for all of your family and friends. It even has third-row seating which is essential for last-minute changes to plans or for those with a growing family. You will never feel like you are lacking functionality as the car has carefully selected the best and most essential security, accessibility, and entertainment features that are a must for car ownership in 2022 while managing to provide them at an affordable package.
