Bluffton, SC - Teeth specialist headquartered in Bluffton SC, Off-Island Dental Care, is establishing a reputation for offering the highest quality dental care in the region. In addition, the award-winning dentist also takes pride in offering a comprehensive range of dental treatments to people of all ages.

Off-Island Dental's comprehensive dental treatments vary from routine tooth cleanings and prophylaxis to more invasive dental procedures. Prophylaxis, or tooth cleaning, typically performed twice a year, is one method of keeping the mouth healthy and preventing the spread of other infections. Tartar and plaque are removed during the operation.

"You can expect our skilled dentists to provide you with the dental treatments you need with the greatest care. Additionally, our sophisticated facility with cutting-edge technology is a bonus," the dentistry firm claims.

Off-Island Dental Care recommends a routine appointment to assess the overall health of the teeth and offer further treatments. The Bluffton dentist discusses how some common dental treatments are performed to guide patients. Off-Island Dental feels that patients familiar with the lingo will have an advantage and will remain calm throughout their dentist consultation.

The dental professional can perform dental services like Dental Implants to replace lost tooth roots. Another service they provide is Same-Day Crowns. According to Off-Island Dental, the advancement of technology now allows for creating a custom-made dental crown in only one day.

Off-Island Dental meanwhile provides Root Canal Therapy as a therapy option for damaged teeth. Root Canal Therapy is an endodontic procedure that includes opening the tooth and extracting the diseased pulp or nerve. For teeth with cavities, Off-Island Dental can perform dental fillings. The most often used filling material is an amalgam, a mixture of mercury, silver, tin, and copper. However, for a more natural appearance, Off-Island Dental strongly recommends composite fillings.

For years, the dental expert in Bluffton SC has served the SC community. The staff has received the essential training and specialty to provide excellent treatment to their patients on each visit. Dr. Michael Langehans, an award-winning dentist, is now leading the dental practice.

Patients can learn more about all of their services by visiting https://www.offislanddental.com/. Additionally, the dental organization offers special savings on its treatments through its Dental Discount Plan. The plan offers a $5.00 discount on routine dental cleanings and a 20% discount on most dental procedures. Additionally, dental examinations and x-rays are included in their membership package.
