Dr. Mark Hickman has 26+ years of experience and has garnered the reputation of being a leading minimally invasive surgeon. With over 1,300 vasectomy reversals completed, he has done too many to bother counting pregnancies, and he has also provided correction procedures for a number of vasectomy reversals done by other providers with a significant amount of successes. And in alignment with his core values, he has decided to offer a vasectomy reversal cost that can be considered to be affordable.

Dr. Hickman earned his medical degree from the University of Texas Medical Branch in Galveston, TX, when he was just 23 years old. Next, he completed his general surgery residency at the University of Texas, for a duration of five years. It was during this residency that he gained important knowledge about microsurgery as performed by plastic and reconstructive surgeons. He soon realized the important advantages offered by microsurgery, especially when it promises a significantly reduced impact on the patient. Dr. Hickman then started his own private practice in New Braunfels in 1988 and he soon gained popularity as one of the pioneers in laparoscopic surgery. He was able to master the technique and soon enough, he also taught minimally invasive surgery methods to other surgeons.

Dr. Hickman?s strategy for the vasectomy reversal procedure is to do a microsurgical repair of the vas deferens in order to get a direct alignment of the lumen of the two ends of the vas deferens. Next, he will ensure that the closure is watertight in order to have a higher success rate. And he will also get a fluid sample from the testicular end of the vas deferens and examine this under the microscope.

There are three possible results of his examination of the fluid sample. The first possibility is that the fluid contains whole sperm, which actually would be the best situation. The second possibility is that the fluid is thin and contains only sperm parts and no whole sperm but this is still good. And the third possibility is that the liquid is thick and pasty and thick but contains no sperm at all. The last situation is known as an epididymal blowout that was caused by an obstruction that could have occurred at two points: where the vasectomy was done and the other one is a rupture of the tube in the epididymis. For the third situation, Dr. Hickman will not just need to perform a vasovasostomy. He must also perform a vasoepididymostomy, which is a microscopic invagination of the epididymal tube into the lumen of the vas deferens with the help of a 10-0 nylon suture. Nevertheless, there will be no additional charge in the event that both procedures will need to be performed.
