On May 26, 2022, zoom magician Jon Finch will kick off his 1,000th virtual show free of charge, with illusions, comedy, and magic tricks. The show is scheduled to last for 3 hours and will be streamed live on Finch's website. This magic performance will commemorate Memorial Day and honor those who have served in the military.

Jon Finch usually performs at the Chicago Magic Lounge. But since mixing together in a theater is less and less common, the magician had to rethink his magic act. His virtual show ? called ?Real Magic for The Virtual World? ? is a 2 hour virtual performance that normally costs around $2000 per show.

In addition to the live stream, the zoom magician will also be releasing a new magic trick every day for the next 1,000 days. He stated that he wants to use his magic to bring joy and happiness to people all over the world. "I'm excited to celebrate my 1,000th show with my fans," said Finch. "It's going to be a lot of fun."

The magician has been performing magic professionally since 2000, but his first virtual show was in 2020. When asked what inspired him to start performing illusions and magic online, the zoom magician said: "I wanted to bring the joy of magic entertainment to as many people as possible. The internet allows magicians to reach a global audience."

Zoom magician Jon Finch has since performed for people in over 20 countries and his corporate fan base continues to grow. For those who want the chance to catch the illusionist for free, or see more of his creativity, comedy, and illusions, visit the magician's website on May 26, 2022.

Seeing an online magician is like seeing a magic show in person, with a few differences. Of course there's no need to wait for every volunteer to walking up onto the stage. But there's the same communication, comedy, laughter, applause, and magic.

Fans of magic and mentalism won't want to miss the virtual performance by zoom magician Jon Finch.
