Paramount Roofing & Consulting, a roofing company based in Douglasville, GA, is proud to announce that they have received another five-star customer review on Google. The roofing contractor has been a leading provider of roofing services in Douglasville and surrounding areas for over 12 years. They are fully licensed and insured as a roofing contractor and can work throughout Georgia, with a broad variety of customers and with various sizes and styles of homes. Their work is backed by industry-leading extended warranty alternatives and they only work with leading roofing manufacturers in the United States.

Otis Floyd, the owner of Paramount Roofing & Consulting, says, ?We are certainly proud to have received another highly positive review because it shows that we are doing things correctly. It means that we are on the right track when it comes to providing the best possible customer service. It is with pride that we can claim that from the moment you start the free roofing estimate process on our website to the time we finish your brand-new roof, you are in expert hands whenever you work with us.?

In the above-mentioned Paramount Roofing & Consulting customer review, Sandra B. said, ?Paramount Roofing is a 5-star company. Very professional, quick response and repair time, very appreciative how the company cleaned up afterwards. They were very understanding about my situation and came out quickly to repair my skylights and chimney before it rained again. I researched several roofing companies and decided to go with Paramount after reading all the great reviews from others previous customers and speaking with Otis who was very professional and knowledgeable. Their prices were very fair / reasonable. I would highly recommend! Such a welcome relief to do business with a company that cares for their customers and stands by there work!?

Paramount Roofing & Consulting offers roof installation services, roof repair services, and roof tarping services. They can provide a full-scale roofing replacement or installation service with their team or roofers who are all insured, bonded, and licensed. They want to emphasize that roofing is a risky and difficult task and advise homeowners not to make it a do-it-yourself (DIY) project. Not only is roof repair and installation very dangerous but those who don?t have the requisite knowledge and experience will not be able to evaluate the roof appropriately and make the assessment on whether it needs to be repaired or replaced.

In a comprehensive roof installation, bringing the shingles and other materials up and down the ladder can be very tiresome and dangerous. And working on the rooftop itself can be very risky, particularly in those instances when roof pitch is not within the 4/12 to 9/12 range. Furthermore, roof work will need specialized tools. A professional roofer always brings the appropriate tools, for instance, nail guns and air compressors. The roofing professionals from Paramount Roofing & Consulting have all the requisite safety equipment, know if permits need to be secured or not, and have supplementary but vital tools, including extension ladders to make the tasks safer and easier.

Paramount Roofing & Consulting has earned the reputation of being a premier roof repair and maintenance contractor in the Douglasville/Smyrna area and they are always ready to offer their service to customers. And no matter how small or large the roof damage, they will provide assistance to the homeowner in processing the insurance claim to obtain funding for a new roof. They serve homes across Powder Springs, Austell, Smyrna, Mableton, Kennesaw, Sandy Springs, Marietta, Brookhaven, Southern Fulton County, and all other nearby areas. When customers request an estimate, one of their insured and licensed representatives will go to the customer?s home and inspect the roof after which a quote is provided, completely free of charge. They have already hundreds of satisfied customers in the Douglasville area and they are ready to provide homeowners who are interested with references.
