New York City car accident lawyer Samantha Kucher releases a new article (https://www.rrklawgroup.com/car-accident-lawyer/) explaining the meaning of "No-Fault Insurance State". According to the lawyer, car accidents are the most common cause of fatalities and injuries in New York as well as elsewhere in theUnited States. There was also an 8% increase in fatalities and injuries in 2020 compared to previous years.

?As home to nearly 8.4 million people, New York City is one of the most populated cities in the United States. As a large metropolis, we have a confluence of both motor vehicle and foot traffic, and with this comes the inevitability of car accidents and their resulting injuries and fatalities. Even the most minor of car accidents in New York can be deadly when it involves a pedestrian,? says the New York City car accident lawyer.

The lawyer explains that traffic accidents can occur because of the high number of pedestrians and vehicles on New York's streets. The victim can suffer severe injuries, medical bills that are high, lost time from work, and other economic losses.

Attorney Samantha Kucher adds that common injuries from car accidents include concussions and bruising, whiplash, neck injuries, whiplash, spinal cord injuries, and paralysis.

In the article, the lawyer explains that No-fault Insurance means that anyone who is injured in an accident in the state regardless of whose fault it is will need to first check their insurance to receive compensation. This does not mean that nobody is ?at fault:? for the accident because fault will definitely come into play when it comes to many injury claims in New York.

According to attorney Kucher, ?In New York City, in the case of an injury that exceeds your benefit limits, you may also have the ability to file a claim or lawsuit against the at-fault party after a car crash or any car accident. Under our comparative fault rules, even if you are partially at fault for the accident, you can still be compensated for a portion of your damages. This is when it is essential to have the assistance of a skilled personal injury lawyer in your corner to ensure that you are being fully and fairly compensated.?

Lastly, the lawyer also emphasizes the importance of understanding your rights in claiming compensation for car accident injuries. An experienced lawyer may be able to help victims navigate the legal system.
