Dry Star Restoration Celebrates 10 Years of Providing Water Damage Repairs in Phoenix

June 01, 2022

Mesa, Arizona - June 01, 2022 -
Dry Star Restoration, a company based in Mesa, AZ, is proud to announce that they have been providing water damage repairs Phoenix residents can rely on, since 2012 and is celebrating 10 years of serving Phoenix and surrounding areas. With their team of certified experts, they were able to set a record of outstanding response rates and to reduce the disruption caused by a water damage disaster. They want to assure everyone that they are always ready to respond to catastrophes in Phoenix and neighboring areas.

They believe that response time is critical when dealing with water damage, such as one caused by a flood, which is why they can be contacted on the phone at any time of the day, at any day of the week. They will use moisture detecting equipment to identify those areas where the water has migrated and then all of these areas are taken care of and properly dried. They use advanced techniques and take extra care in preventing damage due to swelling, warping, delaminating, and buckling. With their timeliness and professionalism, odors, mold, and other potential health problems may be prevented or eliminated.

Richard Appel, owner of Dry Star Restoration, says, ?Our top priorities for our water mitigation services are safety, quality, and exceptional customer service. If you have flood damage of any kind, our professionally trained and certified water damage cleanup experts can rapidly and effectively solve the problem on short notice. We not only fix the original problem, but we make sure that any affected area is professionally cleaned, deodorized and sanitized. Our flood damage experts are just a call away. We will handle all of your water damage cleanup needs from any emergency that may arise, whether it be broken or leaky pipes, bathtub overflow, sink overflow, toilet overflow and leaks, air conditioner leaks, refrigerator, washing machine, water heater, and dishwasher overflow, hardwood floor water damage, crawlspace drying, or sump pump failure.?

Six simple steps will be taken to provide water restoration. The first step is for the homeowner or property owner to contact them. Because time is vital in limiting the extent of the water damage, they are available 24/7 on the phone. The second step is for their professionals to inspect and evaluate all possible areas of damage. The third step is the water extraction process where they will remove most of the water from the structures of the home to stop further damage and reduce the drying time. The fourth step is the use of drying equipment to get rid of water that has been retained by building materials, thus minimizing the potential for mold damage. The fifth step is the cleaning process, which will include odor removal and deodorization treatment techniques. Their technicians will clean the floors, walls, upholstery, furniture, clothing, and other personal items that can be recovered. And finally, the six step is the restoration of the home or building back to its original condition. This may include minor repairs, such as installing new carpet, replacement of drywall. More serious damage may require major reconstruction of some areas of the home or commercial building.

Started in 2012, Dry Star Restoration has evolved into a top provider of water and fire damage restoration in Arizona. They are a family-owned full service water damage restoration company who has made the commitment to provide excellent service in bringing back the home or business to its original condition before the catastrophe. Their certified professionals have a proven track record of being highly responsive and having the knowledge and experience on mitigation that is vital in minimizing the disruption caused by a disaster. Their service area includes: Fountain Hills, Chandler, Apache Junction, Gilbert, Higley, Glendale, Paradise Valley, Mesa, Gold Canyon, Peoria, Rio Verde, Phoenix, Scottsdale, San Tan Valley, Queen Creek, Tempe, and Tortilla Flat.
