Bluffton, SC - Off-Island Dental Care is a top option for Bluffton, South Carolina residents when it comes to Tooth Extraction.

Off-Island Dental has established its reputation as one of the best dental companies in the region. According to them, tooth extraction is among the most common dental procedures they perform. However, while it is common, Off-Island Dental assures that they continue to give extra care to every client they serve.

The specialist says unsafe tooth extraction can lead to problems that can significantly impact someone's dental health. For this reason, Off-Island Dental puts great effort into providing safe tooth extraction services.

The dental professional points out several reasons why tooth extraction is necessary. The first is when a decayed tooth is severely infected and is already beyond repair. A cracked tooth that can spread the infection to other teeth or gums is also one factor in extracting it. Growing wisdom teeth or rear molars can also cause crowding, resulting in pain and swelling. Tooth extraction is most often recommended to maintain the positioning of other healthy teeth.

Bluffton's favorite dentist, Dr. Michael David Langehans, says tooth extraction is likewise recommended as preparation for braces or other orthodontic procedures. Whatever the reason, Dr. Langehans says tooth extraction should be done safely.

Meanwhile, the Bluffton dental company offers several other General Dentistry services besides tooth extraction. They also perform Dental Fillings, TMJ Therapy, Composite Fillings, and Teeth Whitening Services. In Cosmetic Dentistry, they have Microabrasion, Veneers, and Clear Removable Braces.
