A spokesperson for the Puyallup day spa talks about the many types of customers that it serves by saying, ?We get all kinds of inquiries. A lot of our patrons have been through debilitating accidents that left them with a long-term injury that requires continuous treatment. We help them deal with the pain by offering them relaxing massages administered by LMTs with years of experience in many different modalities. The cost of the medical massage therapy is covered by insurance if you have a diagnosis code from a doctor, naturopath, chiropractor, physician?s assistant, or nurse practitioner. Even if you don?t have a diagnosis, we can point you to a medical professional from our local contacts who can help you get one. Second, we get a lot of interest from customers who want to try out the many exotic therapies, that we offer here at Unlocking The Body, that are not readily available at other local providers. This includes flotation pools, one of our most popular therapies. We are the only Float Facility in Puyallup, currently, and the only Float Facility in Pierce County to be approved for an extra level of purification in our Float Pool. Finally, we also get visitors who just want to relax after a hard day at work or enjoy some time away from familial responsibilities. Whichever bucket you fit in, our staff is ready to hear you out and suggest the best modalities that will help you unwind and work on the root cause of your ailment. Give us a call or text today to book an appointment and experience the Unlocking The Body difference.?

The Puyallup massage center has secured an amazing rating of 4.6 out of 5.0 from almost 180 reviews on its Google My Business page. The reviews on Google repeatedly mention the quality of the customer service offered at the front desk, the professionalism and skill of the LMTs, and the relaxing atmosphere of the day spa.

A particular review from a client who claims to be neurodivergent stands out. He says, ?As a neuro-divergent person (autism) that has a neuro-degenerative disease (Charcot-Marie-Tooth), I have to write: this place is a blessing to the surrounding area. They were and are so very kind and patient with me, which is unfortunately rare. These days, everyone is so busy, that they lose sight of what compassion truly means. They are very compassionate at Unlocking The Body. They gave clear and helpful instructions, even before I told them of my neurodivergent issues. They are mindful of the environment enough to have hand towels instead of paper towels for drying hands. Their massage therapists are well-experienced and kind. They are in tune with your needs the moment you walk in because their intake forms are so thorough. Honestly, I could write a book about how impressed I am with the place. I'll summarize with: thank you so much for having an amazing staff. Every single person at Unlocking The Body is a kind and understanding person full of genuine care for their patients. Just, thanks so very much!?
