Dr. Jochen says, "If you've been experiencing pain, we want to get to the root cause of the problem. It's why we've developed a three-tiered approach toward healing. Once we've diagnosed what's causing your pain, we apply a three-step method to help ease the pain and ensure that you're on the path to true health and wellness. The first step we take is to help you get out of pain or effectively manage it if you've been diagnosed with a chronic condition. We combine various treatments such as: chiropractic manipulations for optimal spinal alignment; soft tissue massage therapy; and physical therapy. The second step is to give you the tools you need to correct the underlying cause of your pain. We start by teaching you a series of exercises and then, you can put them into practice in the comfort of your own home. And the third step is to provide you with a maintenance program, which consists of regular chiropractic adjustments, exercises and treatments.?
