June 07, 2022 -
Portland, Oregon: For more than 27 years, NW Cornea Institute has been the premier local private practice in ophthalmology in Portland, OR. Their experienced medical team of ophthalmologists provides life-changing treatments for various eye conditions, including Laser Eye Surgery (LASIK & PRK), Cataract Surgery, Cornea Transplant, Corneal Cross-Linking, and Corneal Trauma Surgery. Their work is underpinned by intensive research in ophthalmology science to ensure they offer their patients the most advanced treatments and the highest level of care.

Hundreds of people suffer from eye diseases and corneal problems every year, such as keratitis and dry eyes. Luckily, patients in Portland can seek help from NW Cornea Institute?s expert ophthalmologists. Thanks to the clinic?s advanced eye treatments and cutting-edge eye surgery technology, they have helped countless patients restore their vision and improve their quality of life.

With many decades of medical experience and a long track record of successful eye surgeries, the NW Cornea Institute has become one of the most respected ophthalmology practices. Led by Dr. Terry and Dr. Straiko, the private practice?s team of expert ophthalmologists and skilled ophthalmic technicians has earned a solid, 5-star reputation for their comprehensive approach to eye treatments and individualized care for each and every patient. A clinical cornea fellow, a dedicated researcher, clinical support staff, and scheduling providers complete the NW Cornea Institute team of ophthalmologists in Portland.

At NW Cornea Institute, their mission is to provide the greater Portland area in Oregon with the best eye care for all patients in need of eye treatment or eye surgery. Whether someone is suffering from an eye injury, keratoconus, Fuch?s dystrophy, changes in vision, or common conditions like cataracts or glaucoma, NW Cornea Institute?s dedicated ophthalmologists are always on call to help their patients.
