

Hydrofeet® Gives Away Free Pair Of Shoe Insoles To Veterans

November 11, 2015

November 11, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

To express gratitude and appreciation to people who have served in the US Armed Forces, Hydrofeet® is giving out a free pair of its award winning massaging shoe insoles to the first 100 veterans who sign up to the company's promotional page on Veteran's Day, November 11, 2015. After providing a copy of their proof of service, Hydrofeet® will ship a pair to them absolutely free. Veterans can sign up directly at: <http://hydrofeet.com/pages/veterans-day-promo>.

Michael and Josephine Bitler, owners of Hydrofeet® company, believe that veterans should be given the best treatment possible. "Our Veterans fought hard and sacrificed for our freedoms, which are so often taken for granted," Michael explained. Meanwhile, Josie shared, "We firmly believe in giving back to the community, and Veterans Day gives us a chance to honor their service to our country."

Annually, different communities around the country organize activities in honor of the veterans. Some of these activities include breakfast, luncheon, programs, and the most popular - the veteran's parade, wherein the known heroes march on the streets while receiving warm greetings from the people watching. These activities are fun, but tiring for the veterans, especially to their feet.

Hydrofeet® is a liquid massaging shoe insert. It is made of Thermoplastic Polyurethane (TPU) with FDA-approved, pharmaceutical-grade, vegetable-based liquid glycerin filling. These two ingredients work together not just to provide pain relief for the feet, but to also help in addressing other foot and leg concerns such as pains on the knee, hip and back, plantar fasciitis, bunions, peripheral neuropathy, and many more.

According to medical information site Health Day, elderly people are more prone to foot and leg problems. As people age, their feet gradually lose their cushioning, become dry and brittle, and decrease blood circulation. The site recommends opting for more comfortable footwear, and keeping the blood flowing freely. Hydrofeet® is only as thick as a quarter, but is proven to cushion and massage the seniors' feet in every step. This massaging action also promotes blood circulation, which could help them heal foot sores or prevent edema.

The company is encouraging veterans not to miss this chance of experiencing how it feels like to walk on water.
