June 14, 2022

Marietta, Georgia - June 14, 2022 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

GA based Complete Realty Team has been steadily growing thanks to the uncompromising assistance they offer all of their clients. Since the firm provides a comprehensive suite of real estate services, this policy makes them highly popular in the community, especially given that their mandate is to put their clients' interests first at all times. Those interested in working with this team of experienced, dedicated real estate agents are welcome to get in touch today to get started.

"In a nutshell, we're who you need if what you're looking for is the best real estate agent in the area," says Complete Realty Team. "Our team's first and foremost commitment is to you, and nothing will shake that as we aggressively pursue your real estate goals on your behalf. Further, we have taken on clients whose experience with the real estate industry ranges from first time homeowners to those with multiple properties, so you are in good hands no matter how well or how little you understand the process."

In practice, this means that clients who are familiar with the demands of the real estate industry may simply elect to inform Complete Realty Team of their requirements and preferences. Aside from ongoing reports regarding the team's progress, a client in such circumstances often need not get involved again unless unforeseen challenges require additional input or until they are ready to close. In fact, many who choose Complete Realty Team come to conduct their business this way since the firm makes it a point to swiftly assimilate their desires.

On the other hand, many will prefer to be involved at every step, particularly if they do not know how to address the many intricacies involved in real estate. First time homeowners (or sellers), for instance, may wish to have the firm's guidance at all times, and Complete Realty Team is always pleased to oblige. Crucially, they believe that the home buying or selling process should be a fulfilling experience, and everyone is entitled to this regardless of their previous level of involvement in real estate. With this in mind, the team attempts to make every project as simple and straightforward as possible. In some cases, this may involve breaking down complex deals into a format that a client can digest more easily. Similarly, they are always encouraged to raise any questions or points of confusion with their real estate agent ? the firm strongly believes in helping them make informed decisions at all times. A testimonial left on the firm's Google profile serves to illustrate the quality of the service they offer each client. J. Smith gives Complete Realty Team a full 5-Star rating for their work, going on to explain that, "We chose to work with Complete Realty Team - Ken Mandich - REALTOR® - ERA Sunrise Realty again when selling our home after having a great experience with them when buying our home four years ago. The process was incredibly simple and stress-free thanks to Complete Realty Team! They made us feel at ease and confident in the process as first-time home buyers/sellers, and we couldn't recommend Complete Realty Team highly enough!?"

Complete Realty Team is led by REALTOR® Ken Mandich, a veteran of the field. His unique strengths, the firm says, play a massive role in their effectiveness. In addition to utilizing the latest technology and offering unparalleled, personalized support to their clients, the firm relies on his extensive knowledge as a digital marketer to ensure homes receive the full benefit of online marketing. Most agents rely exclusively on the MLS, Multiple Listing Services, to market their clients' properties, but this is far from the most effective means of accomplishing this goal. Most buyers start by searching online when looking for a home, and Mandich knows how to take advantage of this.

Complete Realty Team primarily serves the communities of Cobb County, which includes Acworth, Marietta, Roswell, Fair Oaks, Smyrna and so on. Those looking to buy or sell a property may reach out to Ken Mandich or any of the other REALTORS® at Complete Team Realty to get started.
