June 17, 2022 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Cardinale GMC, a car dealership near Seaside, CA, wants to inform everyone that they are offering for sale the 2022 Electric Hummer EV Pickup Truck, or the more inclusive Electric Hummer EV SUV. The 2022 Hummer EV Pickup is provided with a lot of modern features that allows the owner to drive comfortably even on rough terrain. The 2022 Electric Hummer EV SUV combines the features of the pickup with the roomy SUV and provides the driver with the best features of the two. And unlike its fossil fuel version, this particular SUV is practical for a daily drive without the financial stress that comes from expensive fuel.

The Electric Hummer EV Pickup provides up to 18 camera views while the SUV has 17 camera views. The Standard HD Surround Vision is provided in combination with a waterproof underbody at the front and rear-facing cameras that allows the driver to have a view of what is happening around the vehicle, and allows the driver to choose the best direction to take. The cameras are provided with replaceable lens protectors and they also have washers to make sure that vision is clear all the time.

The 2022 Electric Hummer has a 12.3-inch high definition driver's information center that provides all the information required for driving. There is also a 13.4-inch touchscreen display within the driver's reach and it provides a broad variety of data settings, and access to all of the infotainment features available. The Electric Hummer also has an eTrunk, which is the place to store the different gear and modular sky panels. The Hummer EV SUV has a lot of storage space with back seats can be folded flat to provide additional storage space. Also provided is an under-the-floor hidden storage and rear-quarter large storage compartment on the side of the driver for additional space.

According to Cardinale GMC, which is regarded as the best GMC dealership in Seaside CA, the Electric Hummer is also provided with the revolutionary crabwalk technology that allows the driver to turn the rear wheels up to 10 degrees on both sides allowing the user to drive slowly but with more control to get out of tight and difficult spots. The Hummer EV also has the Extract Mode that will provide the vehicle with an extra 6 inches of height is required to go over water and boulders. This feature is enabled through the Adaptive Air Ride Suspension technology.

The Electric Hummer EV SUV and Pickup provide one the best clearances for EV vehicles and they are also provided with specially engineered tires that are 35 inches of optimal performance and clearance that enables the driver to confidently tackle off-road terrain. The Hummer EV also has an Infinity Roof with four easy-to-remove panels that are transparent but tinted to ensure that vehicle occupants are protected from the sunlight. These panels can be safely and conveniently stored in the trunk when they are not in use.
