Best Buds CBD store has recently announced that they have three distinct categories of hemp and cannabis related products available for purchase from their online store. These three categories are full spectrum CBD, delta-8 THC, and THC-O, all of which are currently legal to purchase and ship in the United States of America thanks to the 2018 Farm Bill.

People often reach for full spectrum CBD when they are experiencing anxiety or pain, because the lack of the psychoactive compound THC makes them possibly more effective at helping with certain kinds of ailments. Many people also claim that small amounts of CBD taken before bed can help them achieve a more restful, relaxing sleep. Full spectrum cannabis products, like the full spectrum CBD gummies sold by Best Buds CBD store, are generally thought to work better and have more enhanced effects than just THC or just CBD. This is because of what is known as the "Entourage Effect", which stipulates that all of the various compounds of the cannabis plant, including the phytocannabinoids, terpenes, and more, work together to create greater synergistic effects in the body than what can be caused by any of the compounds individually. The full spectrum CBD products from Best Buds CBD store can be found here: <https://bestbudscbdstore.com/collections/full-spectrum-cbd-gummies>

Another type of product being offered by Best Buds CBD Store is delta-8 THC edibles, which come in gummies shaped like bears, rings or watermelon slices, as well as an infused rainbow nerds rope and various flavors of cube-shaped gummies. Delta-8 THC has recently grown in popularity thanks to the mild, euphoric high that can be caused by this less potent variety of THC. Delta 8 THC generally does not produce anxiety or paranoia, nor does it cause as intense of a high as smoking cannabis with regular THC, also known as delta-9 THC, can bring. Best Buds CBD store's products is made with the highest quality hemp, all of which contains less than 0.3% Delta 9 THC by weight, the legal limit under the 2018 farm bill. According to Best Buds CBD store, their delta 8 thc gummies are great for helping people feel emotionally uplifted, providing a natural calming effect, promoting true peace and happiness, and allowing users to balance their emotions more mindfully. Best Buds sells their Delta 8 THC products at this link: <https://bestbudscbdstore.com/collections/delta-8-gummies> Best Buds CBD does want their customers to keep in mind that Delta 8 THC, and the compounds it metabolizes into in the body, can build up over time and consistent use and may cause users to fail cannabis-related drug tests.

Finally, Best Buds CBD store sells a number of products containing THC-O, which has been called "the psychedelic cannabinoid" and "the spiritual cannabinoid" due to its incredible potency. Research suggests that THC-O is roughly three times stronger than conventional THC, or delta-9 THC. This means it's also much, much more potent than delta-8 THC, and, because it's derived from federally legal hemp products, it currently enjoys the same federally legal status as delta-8 THC and full spectrum CBD products. Because of this, it's been gaining popularity in markets that don't have legalized and licensed cannabis markets, where people still want to get high and experience the potential benefits of cannabis use. The selection of THC-O products available from Best Buds CBD Store is available for browsing at this link: <https://bestbudscbdstore.com/collections/thc-o-gummys-edibles-syrups>

It is important to note that THC-O, unlike CBD, is not a naturally occurring compound in the cannabis plant. Instead, it is produced through a series of extractions and chemical processes starting with raw hemp. First, CBD, a naturally occurring compound, is extracted from the hemp plant. Then delta-8 THC is extracted from the CBD, the same delta-8 CBD available in products from Best Buds CBD store. Finally, a highly flammable compound called acetic anhydride, which is often used as a reagent in organic synthesis processes, is added to the THC molecules, usually delta-8 thc molecules, to produce the THC-O.
