It is vital for you to understand the local market and what it is looking for when you're interested in selling your home, says a representative from Hamre Real Estate Team RE/MAX Affiliates. Fortunately, your team at Hamre Real Estate Team RE/MAX Affiliates is the best you could possibly have at your side, and we have long made it our business to keep track of every real estate trend in Ottawa and the surrounding areas. Our primary objective is to take as much of the responsibility and hassle of making a sale off your shoulders, and we can step in virtually anywhere you need us.

The real estate agency says that every seller should aim to obtain the highest possible sales price for their home, and this can only be achieved by making sure any associated marketing is able to reach the right buyers with the right message. Hamre Real Estate Team RE/MAX Affiliates has invested years into expanding their network and building their team's experience along the way, and this allows them to virtually guarantee that every sale they are involved in will be closed in accordance with the client's wishes. More insight on this can be found here: <https://www.facebook.com/weknowottawa>.

In today's fast-paced market, decisions are often made almost on a whim, and having a property ready for a buyer to view can mean the difference between a sale and several more months of waiting to close. The agency is highly cognizant of this phenomenon, and they have adapted their processes to both accommodate and take advantage of this. For instance, clients will find that the team can arrange every aspect of their marketing to create the right message ? and they can do so in a variety of formats that include brochures, online listings, social media pages or even a more conventional advertisement. Hamre Real Estate Team RE/MAX Affiliates offers a dual-service in that they deal with both the promotion of the property in question as well as handle all of the sale's practical needs, including all the paperwork (from beginning to end).

A recent review from Ryan Z. ?This is the second time we have used Steve Hamre and the Hamre Group to sell a property in the Ottawa area. In both instances he got us the very best price in lightning speed. This last instance was a rural property outside of Ottawa and again Steve delivered. His professionalism and dedication can't be beat. His contacts are extensive and he even helped find us another agent in another province who aided us in purchasing our retirement property. I had him both sell and find a new more suitable property for my 80 year old Mother - that is the level of trust I have in Steve and the entire Hamre Group!?

This is far from the only review from a customer who has returned to the firm for their real estate needs. Many others express satisfaction with their experience regardless of the service they needed, and they generally consider the firm to be the only name they trust in such matters. As Martin A. says, ?We have worked with Steve Hamre in the past, both buying and selling, and we have always enjoyed a great working relationship. When selling our home, Steve provided us with excellent help in preparing our home for the market (i.e. staging and repairs). When buying, Steve was extremely accommodating to our schedule and found us the ideal house before it came on the market. Steve also has a trusted network of contractors who can provide support ranging from general contracting to moving your belongings. We would highly recommend Steve.?

Hamre Real Estate Team RE/MAX Affiliates is pleased to share that a great deal of their business comes from direct referrals and returning clients, and they look forward to working with other members of the Ottawa community who want nothing less than the best real estate service possible. From competent, thoroughly experienced real estate agents to a free market analysis, staging assistance and more, the agency provides every service or amenity a seller could need.
