The premier services from Home Air and Vito Services will continue along with additional services now available.

Rockville, MD. ? Vito Services, a plumbing company serving Washington DC and the surrounding areas, has recently partnered with another local home service company, Home Air Services. The partnership of the two companies has been in the works for some time, as both companies are dedicated to ensuring a seamless transition for their customers and staff alike.

"We are extremely excited to join forces with Vito Services," says Lionel Bouilin, Owner of Home Air Services. "To combine the knowledge and resources of another local company that has been a fixture in the DMV since 1934 is a tremendous opportunity not just for Home Air Services, but mostly for all of our Home Air Service customers."

The acquisition of Home Air Services fits nicely into Vito?s mission to provide their customers with the latest innovations in home services while still providing unparalleled service and customer care.

"Our customers have always been our number one priority and this merger will allow us to better serve them,"?says Michael Vito, Owner & President of Vito Services.?"Combining the expertise and all of the services offered by Vito and Home Air Services?will allow for better, faster and more comprehensive service to our customers across the board."

Separately, Home Air Services and Vito Services stand as extremely reputable companies with decades of experience under their belts. With this partnership, they bring a combined 156 years of experience in both plumbing and HVAC. Plus, with access to Vito?s fleet of fully equipped service vans and roster of HVAC professionals, Home Air Services has access to more resources, enabling them to provide quicker service without sacrificing quality.

"In addition to the vast resources of HVAC skills offered at Vito Services, our customers will now have access to enhanced plumbing services by one of the top-ranked plumbing companies in the Washington, DC area," Home Air Services' Bouilin states.

"We are so glad to welcome Home Air Services to the Vito Family," says Michael Vito.

The two companies have already begun working side-by-side, providing their customers with their expanded resources and capabilities.
