Brand New Approach To COR Safety Auditing Revealed In Alberta And Saskatchewan

November 17, 2015

November 17, 2015 -
Interlock Safety Inc., of Lloydminster, AB, Canada, has announced that they now offer a completely unique Certificate of Recognition (COR) safety auditing service in Alberta. It is the custom-tailored approach of their COR audit Alberta and Saskatchewan services that differentiates them from other auditors.

"We want to make our clients' lives easier and less stressful through our COR service," says Suzanne Eshleman from Interlock Safety Inc. "We are detailed, action oriented and take a team approach. Basically, we offer auditing made easy by a recognized expert who will see their complete solutions through to the end."

Interlock Safety Inc. has a team of health and safety consultants and trainers on board. They understand how intimidating and frustrating it can be to prepare for a COR audit. This is particularly true for individuals who have been made responsible for the completion of the COR audit but did not have any input in the overall health and safety management team.

"Whatever the case may be, we understand" adds Eshleman. "As your COR Auditor, we are working with you not against you. We look for solutions rather than focusing on where your Health and Safety Management System fails. Of course, we identify strengths and weaknesses for each element of the COR Audit, but where we differ from other COR auditors, is our ability to provide actionable solutions to the weaknesses."

"We also provide substantial notes in the audit to help the client understand how questions are scored. Other auditors provide just enough detail to pass the quality assurance aspect, which is limited in detail. This plus the actionable and realistic solutions clients get to help implement these improvements sets us apart" according to Eshleman, founder and owner of the business. The company regularly shares new information through their Facebook page on https://www.facebook.com/InterlockSafety.

For Interlock Safety Inc., the auditing process can only be completed by taking a partnership approach to health and safety management and working together as a team. They encourage everybody to follow them on Twitter through https://twitter.com/SafetyIsJobOne, to remain up to date with new developments.
