In one recent review on Google, Edward C. gave True Potential Chiropractic a five star rating and said, "It's always great visit when you can walk out of the office pain free after the adjustment. Thank you for relieving my back pain after a hard weekend of work." In another recent review, Tina M. also gave them five stars and said, "True Potential is welcoming, well run, knowledgeable and everyone is ready to help in anyway they can. They are so accommodating with my schedule. After receiving no answers or help from medical doctors for over two years for my pain and tingling, I have started to feel relief with my back and neck issues after only a couple of months of going there. And it's actually helped my hiatal hernia and acid reflux! I highly recommend them!"

Aside from offering an auto injury chiropractor Beaverton patients can go to, True Potential Chiropractic also offers sports chiropractic care, family chiropractic care, massage therapy, and more. Family chiropractic care includes services for kids and pregnant women. With children very active, they are often subjected to falls, physical stress, accidents, and daily cumulative trauma, such as rough play, heavy backpacks, sleeping incorrectly, and poor posture. These things can affect a child's spine and nervous system, resulting into poor alignment. Meanwhile, pregnant women also need chiropractic care because changes, such as altered posture, abdominal weight gain, pelvic imbalances, and other sources of stress can result into pain, affect mood and sleep, and can sometimes make the process of giving birth more difficult.

Meanwhile, chiropractic care can also help those who have auto injuries, such as whiplash and concussion.

Whether the auto injury was recent or old from an auto crash or sports injury, the professionals from True Potential Chiropractic may be able to help.

They also provide massage therapy, which may help patients recovery from a number of health problems. Their licensed massage therapists (LMTs) collaborate with their chiropractic physicians for both joint and muscular imbalances, dysfunctions, and compensations, including whiplash and car accident injuries. They can use a wide range modalities, such as: cupping; aromatherapy; craniosacral therapy; myofascial release; decompressive taping; deep tissue massage; swedish massage; prenatal massage; sports massage; and trigger point therapy.

Established in 2013, True Potential Chiropractic provides lifestyle care to everyone, particularly for family members. This chiropractic clinic has gradually grown into one of the top providers of family corrective care and wellness in the Pacific Northwest. Dr. Bryen Bell, who founded the clinic, specializes in non-drug solutions as the primary option in offering health care. He and his family had transferred to the Pacific Northwest during the summer of 2013 and it was not long after that Dr. Bell launched a completely computerized and modern corrective care family wellness center in Beaverton, Oregon. This is a family and sports rehab chiropractic practice targeted at helping patients achieve better health and wellness, by focusing on maintenance and prevention, rather than only providing treatment after a health problem has already occurred, such as pain, disease, or disability. His philosophy is based on the six laws of the human body, which are: diet, exercise, alignment, rest, stress management, and mindset. Dr. Bell obtained his chiropractic degree (D.C.) and BS degree in human biology from the Cleveland Chiropractic College in Los Angeles, California.
