

Roshiwave Mind Machine Hailed As The Return Of pROSHI Neurodynamic Activator

August 02, 2022

Dallas, Texas - August 02, 2022 -
Mindmachines.com proudly introduces the Roshiwave self-meditation device. Like its wildly popular "pROSHI" predecessors, Roshiwave delivers the perfect rendition of the entire catalog of historical ROSHI protocols in one, small easy to use device. Rather than needing to switch glasses to change LED color, the Roshiwave system allows for changing glasses color with the click of a button making one pair of glasses capable of emulating the entire assortment of original pROSHI in-sight glasses.

The Roshiwave device now contains all historical ROSHI light stimulation protocols including pROSHI BB, pROSHI II, pROSHI II+ and pROSHI II+ 3D. is now available at mindmachines.com.

"It has been more than seven years since pROSHI nerodynamic activator by Chuck Davis was discontinued and sold out. Now the RoshiWave is available as the only device to deliver ROSHI protocol brain stimulation," says Fred Williams of mindmachines.com.

The RoshiWave uses a propriatary algorithmic "Error-Correction System for the Brain" which normalizes brain waves as opposed to standard entrainment. RoshiWave does this through the process of ?Dynamic Neuro-Activation,? through which RoshiWave dis-entrains abnormal brainwave frequencies in the brain and quiets the mind.

The RoshiWave self-meditation machine is currently available at the mindmachines.com website. For more information about the RoshiWave device visit mindmachines.com
