Simpsons International Removals Can Help British Expats Move to Switzerland

August 09, 2022

Dartford, Kent - August 09, 2022 -
Simpsons International Removals Ltd, a removal company based in Dartford, Kent, UK, are pleased to announce they can help British expats move to Switzerland. This comes in response to the Swiss authorities emphasising the importance of free movement and immigration as a way to cover labour shortages in various sectors. More information about Simpsons removal services can be found here: https://www.simpsons-uk.com/removals-to-switzerland

The Swiss authorities have stated that the immigration of workers from abroad has been helpful in their efforts to deal with their labour deficiency in a number of sectors. The Swiss Secretariat for Economic Affairs has pointed out that Switzerland is experiencing an economic upturn and has significantly decreased unemployment. However, companies in several sectors have still been reporting difficulties in finding the skilled workers that they need.

Simpsons providese various kinds of removal services that are all geared towards making the moving process easy. This includes a move manager who will provide guidance to customers and help with customs clearance and documentation. Simpsons also provide a team of packers who will carefully wrap the customer?s personal belongings as well as storage facilities if required in Switzerland or the UK.

John Lee, CEO of Simpsons International Removals, says, ?If you are moving house to Switzerland from the UK or looking for a cost-effective method to transport your furniture and belongings then we can help. Our removals team specialises in international moving and European removal services, and due to our experience in helping people move to Switzerland, we will be able to make your home removal easy and stress-free. Any worries about the UK to Switzerland removals process will be handled by our knowledgeable staff who will guide you throughout.?

Simpsons International Removals Ltd is a provider of regular road services throughout Europe, for removals to Switzerland or for relocating anywhere in Europe. Other popular offshore destinations, including the Canary Islands, Malta, Balearics, and Cyprus, are covered by their international moving services.

When Simpsons moves customers? furniture and belongings from UK to Switzerland, these are frequently transported by road freight. A dedicated removals van may be used but more typically a shared van for smaller moves. Simpsons will not usually utilise a typical removal van but a bigger European road train that allows for savings through economies of scale. This enables Simpsons to offer a less costly removal to Switzerland and a more efficient service.

Simpsons provide door-to-door removal services so their packers will export wrap the customer?s household contents and deliver them to the new home in Switzerland. Customers can indicate their requirements by accomplishing an online quote form. Road freight transportation to mainland destinations in Switzerland commonly takes about two to four weeks for a dedicated service or four to eight weeks for a shared or part load service.
