Chefs Limited Releases New Bamboo Cutting Boards

November 16, 2015

November 16, 2015 -
Chefs Limited, a business in High Point, NC, is proud to announce that they have released their new bamboo cutting boards on Amazon. The product comes as a set of three high quality bamboo boards. Since its original release, the set has already received a number of positive reviews.

"We are a business that focuses on delivering high quality, beautiful kitchen products suitable equally for the home and the professional kitchen," says Shawn Stanton from Chefs Limited. "Our set of three bamboo cutting boards is absolutely stunning and of terrific quality and we are so pleased to see that people are already telling us how much they love them."

The three boards come in three different sizes - small, medium and large. They are made of organic bamboo, which supports the environment and the planet's delicate ecosystem. The sizes are convenient and allow the boards to be used for meat and vegetable preparation or as a serving tray for things like cheese and crackers or fruit. Some businesses have even used it as a cocktail bar board.

The boards have been very positively received in the short time they have been available. "Lovely 3 piece set of high quality solid bamboo cutting boards," says Rachobug. "I love how durable and strong these are, and the alternating light and dark wood is very attractive! This set is fantastic to use for cooking at home and not cross contaminating one cutting board to the other. I think this set would make a great gift to give to a food fanatic, that loves to cook."

The boards have an antimicrobial surface that keeps food hygienic and safe. Furthermore, the bamboo material prevents knives from dulling. As an eco friendly wood fiber surface with end grain, people can use it in the knowledge that they are supporting poorer communities and the planet as a whole.

Chefs Limited is particularly proud of the design of the boards. They have alternating light and dark wood tones for added beauty, and they have a hole in the top for easy hanging. This also makes it a gift for any occasion. The 3 piece bamboo cutting board set can be purchased at Amazon.com or on the Chefs Limited website.
