Orange, California - August 19, 2022 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Alexander Napolin, regarded by many as the best motorcycle accident lawyer Orange, Orange County, CA, has to offer, is reminding potential clients in Southern California of the many ways, that being represented by a lawyer can provide them the support they need during the difficult times following an accident.

Accident victims have a huge list of tasks ahead of them in the few days following the unfortunate incident. To get fully and justly compensated for their suffering, an accident victim must deftly handle getting their car properly examined for the extent of the damage, have themselves tested by a competent medical professional who has prior experience diagnosing the injuries stemming from accidents, and field a barrage of questions from insurance companies and claim adjusters who are just in it for their self-interest.

Alexander Napolin talks about the difficulties that accident victims can face by saying, "Most importantly, you need to assess the damage that the accident did - both to your body and your property. This is important because you need to know exactly how much monetary compensation you are owed. There are many hidden costs to recovery that many accident victims might not account for. For example, certain injuries such as intracranial or intra-abdominal bleeding, ruptured organs, or whiplash might be missed in an initial diagnosis. Only a doctor who has worked with auto accident victims in the past will know what physiological signs to look for to determine the injuries which are likely to be a long-term health hazard.?

Next, when asked about how insurance companies try to manipulate accident victims, Alexander Napolin says, "After you know how much money you need to fund your long-term recovery, you need to be bold enough to resist the sly tricks that insurance adjusters use to get you to close the case quickly. They know that medical bills are likely to pile up over time and, thus, they insist on giving you a quick settlement if you sign away the rights to further compensation. This is one of the oldest tricks in the book and is only conceived of to save the claims managers and their unfeeling corporate backers some money. You might be tempted to take the settlement and move on with your life but if you are confident that you were not at fault for the accident in any way, then we urge you to stay steadfast and take the fight to them. Having a seasoned legal counsel like myself in your corner is the key to spot when you are being taken for a ride. When you seek legal services from the Alexander Napolin Law Firm, we will take over all the communication with the insurance adjusters.
