

Auto Accident Attorney Protects Interests Of Atlanta Residents

August 18, 2022

Atlanta, Georgia - August 18, 2022 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Atlanta, GA based Kenneth S. Nugent, P.C. is reaching out to anyone who has recently found themselves in an auto accident. Whether they were a driver, passenger or pedestrian at the time of the incident, the firm can aggressively pursue every scrap of evidence on their behalf and build an airtight case that eventually gets them the compensation they are due. See more about the firm and their services here: Auto Accident Attorney Atlanta.

In many cases, the firm says, it is easy for accident victims to underestimate the true cost of the accident at hand. For instance, most drivers will initially consider the damage to their vehicle, and an offer to cover this amount from an insurer may be attractive enough for them to agree at once, especially if they depend on their vehicle to get to work and run important errands. Compensation is calculated based on a number of factors, however, and agreeing to settle on the initial amount offered by an insurer is more than likely to result in the victim receiving a much lower figure than they are due.

One other aspect that should be considered is the potential for missed work. If an accident victim no longer has a reliable way to get to work, this can result in lost wages that directly stem from the accident. This cost may be accrued for the duration the vehicle is unusable, but they should consider that they may also be worse off if their inability to go to work leads to them being let go altogether. The same is true if they suffered a serious injury in the accident that negatively impacts their ability to function, both at their place of employment and at home. Kenneth S. Nugent, P.C. points out that contractors who frequently engage in heavy physical activity are an excellent example of a job where even minor injuries can have serious repercussions (such as delaying their recovery or impeding it completely), but injuries that only affect the victim's comfort and quality of life are not discounted either.

"An insurance company will never make you their priority," the firm observes. "While they are legally obliged to fulfill the terms of their policy, they are heavily incentivised to subvert this wherever possible because it would hurt their profits to pay every client what they are owed. Instead, they will instruct the assigned adjustor to find as many reasons as possible to deny coverage or even reduce the amount the victim is due for their suffering and expenses. Many of our clients are surprised to find just how much their insurer would have been able to deny them without our express involvement."

While an insurer is deeply unlikely to put their client first, the opposite is true with Kenneth S. Nugent, P.C. All of their attorneys are heavily invested in making sure clients are treated with the respect they are accorded, and this includes receiving the full compensation they are entitled to under law. The firm's success is heavily tied to the outcomes of their clients' cases, and this gives them a strong financial incentive to pursue claims aggressively. However, each attorney at Kenneth S. Nugent, P.C. also takes pride in contributing to the community, and this is why many consider them to be the top law firm for auto accident cases in the state.

As a recent review from L. Alexander says, "This was my first time ever using an attorney, and I can truly say I was pleased with the outcome. From my case manager, Travis, to my attorney, Christopher, even the closing manager, Lindsay, treated me exceptionally well. They're knowledgeable in their field, and I felt comfortable to trust that they had my best interest at heart. I would recommend them to everyone I know. Thank you, all."

In certain cases, the client may find themselves unable to visit the firm in person to attend a consultation. Kenneth S. Nugent, P.C. advises their community to make this limitation known when they get in touch; a team will be dispatched to the client in short order instead. Anyone can get in touch with Kenneth S. Nugent, P.C. via phone or email.
