Abilene, Tex. ? Finding a reliable Notary Public can be difficult for those who don't know where to look. Pack & Mail Big Country Laminating, a shipping store in Abilene, TX is now offering notary public services for a range of documents.

According to the National Association, ?A Notary Public is an official of integrity appointed by state government ? typically by the secretary of state ? to serve the public as an impartial witness in performing a variety of official fraud-deterrent acts related to the signing of important documents. These official acts are called notarizations, or notarial acts. Notaries are publicly commissioned as "ministerial" officials, meaning that they are expected to follow written rules without the exercise of significant personal discretion, as would otherwise be the case with a "judicial" official.?

From legal documents Power of Attorney or Wills, there is a multitude of documents that require notarization. But for individuals who have never needed document notarization before, the process can be a bit confusing. To clarify, notarization is an official, three-part process (performed by a Notary Public) that deters fraud and assures the parties of a transaction that a document is authentic and can be trusted.

Pack & Mail Big Country Laminating?s on-site notary professionals can handle sensitive documents quickly and accurately following all legal requirements. There is no need to book an appointment as a team member is always available to assist customers with notarization, Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 6:00 p.m.

?When you trust Pack & Mail with your notarization needs, you can be sure that every T will be crossed, and I dotted. Just make sure you arrive with valid government-issued identification, and we can get you taken care of in no time,? stated Philip Wicker, owner of Pack & Mail Big Country Laminating.
